Trenchart Material:

Trench Art Nicholas Saunders, 2020-06-15 Trench art is the evocative name given to a dazzling array of objects made from the waste of industrialized war Each object whether an engraved shell case cigarette lighter or a pen made from shrapnel tells a unique and moving story about its maker For the first time this book explores in depth the history and cultural importance behind these ambiguous art forms Not only do they symbolize human responses to the atrocities of war but they also act as mediators between soldiers and civilians individuals and industrial society and most importantly between the living and the dead Trench art resonates most obviously with the terror of endless bombardment night raids gas attacks and the bestial nature of trench life It grew in popularity between 1919 and 1939 when the bereaved embarked on battlefield pilgrimages and returned with objects intended to keep alive the memory of loved ones The term trench art is however misleading as it does not simply refer to materials found in the trenches It describes a diverse range of objects that have in some way emerged from the experience of war all over the world Many distinctive objects for example were made during conflicts in Bosnia Vietnam Northern Ireland and Korea Surprisingly trench art predates World War I and it can be made in a number of earlier wars such as the Crimean War the American Civil War and the Boer War Saunders looks at the broader issues of what is meant by trench art what it was before the trenches and how it fits in with other art movements as well as the specific materials used in making it He suggests that it can be seen as a bridge between the nineteenth century certainties and the fragmented industrialized values and ideals of the modern world This long overdue study offers an original and informative look at one of the most arresting forms of art Spanning from 1800 to the present day its analysis of art human experience and warfare will pave the way for new research

Trench Art Nicholas J. Saunders, 2011-12-13 A look at the items crafted by soldiers prisoners and civilians from war waste and other items during World War I and the years leading to World War II Engraved shell cases bullet crucifixes letter openers and cigarette lighters made of shrapnel and cartridges miniature airplanes and tanks talismanic jewelry embroidery objects carved from stone bone and wood all of these things are trench art the misleading name given to the dazzling array of objects made from the waste of war in particular the Great War of 1914 1918 and the inter war years And they are now the subject of Nicholas Saunders s pioneering study Saunders reveals the lost world of trench art for every piece relates to the story of the momentous experience of its maker whether front line soldier prisoner of war or civilian refugee The objects resonate with the alternating terror and boredom of war and those created by the prisoners symbolize their struggle for survival in the camps Many of these items were poignant souvenirs bought by battlefield pilgrims between 1919 and 1939 and kept brightly polished on mantelpieces often for a lifetime Nicholas Saunders investigates their origins and how they were made exploring their personal meaning and cultural significance He also offers an important categorization of types which will be a useful guide for collectors Praise for Trench Art The array of art created from a combination of terror and boredom is astonishing Nicholas writes knowledgeably and Beauty Belief Bawdry     Materializing the Military Bernard S. Finn, Barton C. Hacker, 2005 Artefacts is a book series in which the editors encourage authors to use objects as evidence for their studies of the history of science and technology In Materializing the Military with its focus on military technology the results are innovative and provocative Topics as diverse as fourteenth century Burgundian artillery and twentieth century US Army Air Corps sextants uniforms for volunteers and prosthetics for the disabled the material culture of warfare and the cultural implications of the material relics of warfare are all given new meaning through interpretation based on examining the objects themselves as witnessed by the generous use of photographs of the artefacts Also included is an essay on the specific problems of presenting military history through the use of objects in military collections together with an annotated list of selected military naval and air museums Authors who are from academic institutions and museums bring a variety or perspectives to these writings from such disciplinary backgrounds as archaeology museum studies military history and the history of medicine as well as the history of science and technology This book will appeal to serious students of military history to curators and others in all museums of the history of science and technology as well as specifically military museums Nevertheless the level of writing and the subjects covered should also make it valuable to a range of amateur historians interested in these subjects     Review of Contemporary Fiction ,2006     International Directory of Little Magazines & Small Presses Lenard V. Fulton,2006     The International Directory of Little Magazines and Small Presses Len Fulton,2006-09 The biggest revision in ten years of the Bible of the business Wall Street Journal This essential reference for writers librarians students of modern literature and readers worldwide was started in the 1960s during the initial phase of the small press revolution It is safe to say that in its forty first edition the directory is a publishing legend It includes information on over 5 000 presses and journals from around the world listing addresses manuscript requirements payment rates and recent publications Subject and regional indexes are also provided     A French-English Military Technical Dictionary Cornélis De Witt Willcox,1917     Substance, Memory, Display Colin Renfrew,Chris Gosden,Elizabeth DeMarrais,2004 Contemporary art and modern archaeology are increasingly seen to share much common ground yet their interactions have yet to be fully investigated This innovative volume explores key themes including the role of display in art in the practice of archaeology and in daily life and the material transformations which underlie the physical reality of the archaeological record as much as the creative processes of the contemporary artist Prominent practising artists Simon Callery and Antony Gormley provide seminal papers considering the role of materiality and embodiment in their own work exploring issues that are directly relevant to current archaeological thinking They are joined by archaeologists actively involved with visual approaches including Anwen Cooper Christopher Evans Steven Mithen Joshua Pollard Nicholas Saunders Aaron Watson and the editorial trio The book is lavishly illustrated in colour     Alloy of Love Elizabeth Dunbar,2008 Honorable mention for the 2009 AAM Museum Publications Design Competition San Antonio based artist Dario Robleto is well known for his astonishing hand crafted objects works that reflect his intense investigation of such wide ranging topics as science music popular culture philosophy war and American history Utilizing a lengthy roster of bizarre and disparate materials including melted and pulverized vinyl records artifacts gleaned from battlefields rare herbs and minerals and even prehistoric fossils and human bones Robleto excavates conceptually loaded elements from the past He then seamlessly combines and refashions these potent details into poetic works that speak volumes about history and nostalgia as well as concerns about the present condition of our world and its future The resulting works are much more than just the sum of their constituent parts or factual interpretations of particular events and personalities rather they are sincere and emotional mediations on love loss spirituality and ultimately healing Alloy of Love chronicles a decade of Robleto s works with formal portraits and details of his sculptures and collages along with song lyrics and poems associated with each work Ian Berry is associate director and Malloy Curator of the Frances Young Tang Teaching Museum and Art Gallery Skidmore College The other contributors include Elizabeth Dunbar Michael Duncan Jennifer Michael Hecht Robin Held Ginny Kollak and Therese Recio New Scientist and Science Journal ,2000-10
