Functional Sentence Perspective in Written and Spoken Communication Jan Firbas, 1992-06-25 Inspired by the ideas of the Prague School the theory of functional sentence perspective FSP is concerned with the distribution of information as determined by all meaningful elements from intonation for speech to context A central feature of FSP is communicative dynamism Jan Firbas discusses the distribution of the degrees of communicative dynamism over sentence elements which determines the orientation or perspective of the sentence He examines also the relation of theme and rheme to and implementation by syntactic components Special attention is paid to the relation between FSP and word order The second part of the book deals with spoken communication and considers the place of intonation in the interplay of FSP factors establishing the concept of prosodic prominence It tackles the relationship between the distribution of degrees of communicative dynamism as determined by the interplay of the non prosodic FSP factors and the distribution of degrees of prosodic prominence as brought about by intonation

Developmental Aspects in Learning to Write L. Tolchinsky, 2012-12-06 Developmental Perspectives on Writing LILIANA TOLCHINSKY University of Barcelona Spain The advent of the sixties is considered a crucial moment for the discovery of writing as an object worthy of intellectual inquiry Havelock 1986 A number of books which came out in that decade set the stage for this turn to writing One of them was the Preface to Plato by Eric Havelock This book published in 1963 was to become a milestone in the discovery of literacy as a field of research Bockheimer 1998 Havelock 1986 referred to three more works that came out at the same time and Bockheimer suggested adding other publications for example La pensee sau vage by Levi Strauss 1962 The consequences of literacy by Jack Goody and Ian Watt 1963 and La geste et la parole by Laroï Gourham 1964 65 The authors of these books were anthropologists philosophers and sociologists who coincided in highlighting the significance of writing for human development and more specifically for language development They maintained that many institutions ideas beliefs opinions and convictions of the Western world were a by product of an alphabetized mind Writing was for them one of the pillars of subjectivity responsible for the rise of consciousness for our conception of words and for our notion of true and false Amazingly linguists psycholinguists psychologists and educators did not participate in the turn to writing The first did not give any attention 1 There were some exceptions to this generalization
