Sofia Petrovna:

Sofia Petrovna Lidiya Chukovskaya, 2000-09 Complete Russian text of Chukovskaya's novel with notes and an introduction exercises covering vocabulary and syntax topics for essays and questions for discussion A set of three audio CDs in Russian is also available

Sofia Petrovna Лидия Корнеевна Чуковская, 1994 Sofia Petrovna is Lydia Chukovskaya's fictional account of the Great Purge Sofia is a Soviet Everywoman a doctor's widow who works as a typist in a Leningrad publishing house When her beloved son is caught up in the maelstrom of the purge she joins the long lines of women outside the prosecutor's office hoping against hope for good news Confronted with a world that makes no moral sense Sofia goes mad a madness which manifests itself in delusions little different from the lies those around her tell every day to protect themselves Sofia Petrovna offers a rare and vital record of Stalin's Great Purges

Cross-Cultural Reckonings Blanche H. Gelfant, 1995-01-27 Blanche H. Gelfant's book Cross Cultural Reckonings both demonstrates and questions the applicability of postmodern cultural and literary theories to realistic texts to fiction and autobiographies valued for their truth Drawing together an unusual combination of Russian American and Canadian writers the various essays of this book provide new and original perspectives upon the puzzling issues of national identity of historical change and continuity of gender and the integrity of literary genres the boundaries between text and context and the underlying if overlooked conflicts between the postmodern critic's skepticism and a writer's belief in the transcendence of art and truth To avoid the contingencies inherent in binary comparisons the essays in this book seek a triadic form analogous to the triptych or polyptych of the visual arts Multi faceted non linear and open ended such a form might allow the academic essay to recover a waywardness that traces back to Montaigne cited in prefatory notes and to the etymological meaning of the essay as an exagium or weighing as an act of reckoning A study at once elegant erudite and personal Cross Cultural Reckonings reckons with writers of different backgrounds and reputation in whom Gelfant discovers surprising affinities among them the Russian writers Lydia Chukovskaya Natalya Baranskaya and Alexander Solzhenitsyn Ethel Wilson a highly reputed Canadian writer the famous cross cultural figure Emma Goldman and established as well as new or rediscovered American writers such as Willa Cather Saul Bellow Arlene Heyman and Meridel Le Sueur These writers are discussed singly and in comparative essays each of which is discrete and self contained while all interconnect and reflect upon each other as exemplary demonstrations of cross cultural literary criticism and the deferred final judgment that results from a weighing and reweighing of books

Women's Works in Stalin's Time Beth Holmgren, 1993 Holmgren gives a superb comparative analysis of the literary legacy of the two memoirists Times Literary Supplement Beth Holmgren's book is a highly original and very productive critical appraisal of the work of Lidiya Chukovskaya and Nadezhda Mandelstam The Russian Review This fine book with its copious informative notes and good bibliography will interest students of 20th century literature and theorists of autobiography feminist criticism and gender studies Choice a fascinating book that provides a powerful testament to the strength and endurance of women in a particularly ghastly period of history Signs impressive eloquently written an integrated comparative study of two very different female survivors of the Stalinist night Caryl Emerson a bold scholarly act The writing is excellent throughout Barbara Heldt Two extraordinary women writers are evoked as models of women s heroic roles in preserving Russian culture in Stalin s time A fresh and eloquent approach to the literature of the Stalinist age

Tamizdat Yasha Yakov Klots,2023-05-15 Tamizdat offers a new perspective on the history of the Cold War by exploring the story of the contraband manuscripts sent from the USSR to the West A word that means publishing over there tamizdat manuscripts were rejected censored or never submitted for publication in the Soviet Union and were smuggled through various channels and printed outside the country with or without their authors knowledge Yasha Klots demonstrates how tamizdat contributed to the formation of the twentieth century Russian literary canon the majority of contemporary Russian classics first appeared abroad long before they saw publication in Russia Examining narratives of Stalinism and the Gulag Klots focuses on contraband manuscripts in the 1960s and 70s from Khrushchev s Thaw to Stagnation under Brezhnev Klots revisits the traditional notion of late Soviet culture as a binary opposition between the underground and official state publishing He shows that even as tamizdat represented an alternative field of cultural production in opposition to the Soviet regime and the dogma of Socialist Realism it was not devoid of its own hierarchy ideological agenda and even censorship Tamizdat is a cultural history of Russian literature outside the Iron Curtain The Russian literary diaspora was the indispensable ecosystem for these works Yet in the post Stalin years they also served as a powerful weapon on the cultural fronts of the Cold War laying bare the geographical stylistic and ideological rifts between two disparate yet inextricably intertwined fields of Russian literature one at home the other abroad Open Access edition funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities Eight European Plays Winifred Katzin,1927 The stairs The play is described as a lugubrious drama and a study of revenge but one review in The New York Times found it to be doleful and baffling Sofia Petrovna Lydia Chukovskaya,2023-09-20 Russian Prose Writers After World War II Christine Rydel,2005 Whether the writers in this period described the war the Great Terror the gulag experience exile repression or simply everyday life in the city or in the country they generally turned to a major theme of Russian literature since the Revolution the fate of the individual human being in a mass state In the literature often the state won due to its power at other times individuals triumphed because of their moral convictions The same can be said of these writers Twenty Years of Balkan Tangle Mary Edith
