Tubal Uriah Butler of Trinidad and Tobago Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana Daurius Figueira, 2007 This work explodes myths on the decolonization process in former British colonies of Trinidad and Tobago and Ghana Myths that masked the fact that the British colonial overlord with the full support of their local lackeys stage managed the process to ensure that compliant regimes were put in place as the inheritors of Independence from the British Tubal Uriah Butler was systematically destroyed as a political leader to end his threat to the political order as he was not of the required material to be an inheritor of Independence Kwame Nkrumah was fit to rule Ghana but he was subsequently removed in 1966 The social orders of Trinidad and Tobago and Ghana have been deeply impacted by British machinations on the road to Independence to this day

Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' Journal, 1908 Disabling Barriers Ravi Malhotra, Benjamin Isitt, 2017-10-15 Disabling Barriers analyzes issues relating to disability at different moments in Canadian and American history In this volume legal scholars historians and disability rights activists demonstrate that disabled people can change their social status by transforming the political and legal discourse surrounding disablement Employing tools from the fields of law and history this original contribution explores how disabled people have been portrayed and treated in a variety of contexts including within the labour market the workers compensation system the immigration process and the legal system both as litigants and as lawyers It deepens our knowledge of the role of people with disabilities within social movements in disability history The contributors encourage us to rethink our understanding of both the systemic barriers disabled people face and the capacity of disabled people to effect positive societal change
