The Columbia Guide to Digital Publishing William E. Kasdorf, 2003 What is metadata When do you need to archive digital content How does electronic publication affect copyrights How can XML and PDF improve your workflow and your publications There is a digital dimension to virtually all publishing today Beyond the obvious electronic media the music and movies we take for granted the increasingly indispensable Web the eBooks that most of us will take for granted in a few years almost everything we read even on paper was produced digitally This new digital world offers a steadily increasing number of choices It is this rich and rapidly changing publishing environment for which The Columbia Guide to Digital Publishing was created Although there is a vast amount of information on a host of topics relevant to digital production and publishing available some in print more on the Web there has been until now no single resource to which those involved in any dimension of publishing could turn for guidance The Columbia Guide to Digital Publishing fills that need The Guide is definitive written by experts in the broad array of subjects it covers it provides reliable authoritative user friendly information about a vast number of topics Designed to be the first place to go to learn about any of the numerous interrelated issues that define the digital publishing landscape it offers readers a multilevel approach from a brief glossary definition of a technical term or acronym sometimes all a user needs to a concise discussion of a topic comprehensible to the lay person yet useful for the technical expert It puts a subject in the context of other topics and broader issues with real world examples liberal cross references and pointers to sources of further information in print or electronic form

Web Services Implementation Guide Brian E. Travis, Mae Ozkan, 2002-04 Getting value from stuff you don't own is a compelling idea Just think someone else has created something that has value and has given it or loaned it to you so you can leverage that value in ways that makes all parties richer That's the promise of web services Web services is all about exposing your services to your customers whether they are external business partners or internal departments Web services forces you to think of your information assets in a service oriented view Don
