External Relations Dept.,2003-08-22 This paper highlights that the Washington Consensus helped fill the need for an economic policy framework following the discrediting of central planning and import substitution trade strategies Latin American governments championed the Consensus in the early 1990s and the policy agenda delivered some of the things it was supposed to healthier budgets lower inflation lower external debt ratios and economic growth But unemployment rose in many countries and poverty remained widespread while the emphasis on market openness made states vulnerable to the side effects of globalization Human Development Report ,2002 Making Services Work for Poor People ,2003 Too often services fail poor people in access in quality and in affordability But the fact that there are striking examples where basic services such as water sanitation health education and electricity do work for poor people means that governments and citizens can do a better job of providing them Learning from success and understanding the sources of failure this year s World Development Report argues that services can be improved by putting poor people at the center of service provision How By enabling the poor to monitor and discipline service providers by amplifying their voice in policymaking and by strengthening the incentives for providers to serve the poor Freedom from illness and freedom from illiteracy are two of the most important ways poor people can escape from poverty To achieve these goals economic growth and financial resources are of course necessary but they are not enough The World Development Report provides a practical framework for making the services that contribute to human development work for poor people With this framework citizens governments and donors can take action and accelerate progress toward the common objective of poverty reduction as specified in the Millennium Development Goals Encyclopedia of the Global Economy: List of entries David Edward O'Connor,2006 Examines the concepts people and organizations related to economic globalization from the sixteenth century to the present and features over 150 alphabetically arranged entries and primary documents on topics including international trade outsourcing and child labor Gender Differences in Retirement Incentives Jeungkun Kim,2008 The Stockholm Journal of East Asian Studies ,2006 Trends and Challenges in Public Administration Reform in Asia and the Pacific ,2005 EFA Global Monitoring Report ,2009 Creating Value for All ,2008 The extreme prevalence of poverty in today s world calls us urgently for action Yet the poor harbour a potential for consumption production innovation and entrepreneurial activity that is largely untapped This report shows how entrepreneurs can serve the poor as clients and customers and can also include the poor as producers employees and business owners The report s main message Business with the poor can create value for all The publication draws on 50 specially commissioned case studies of businesses that have successfully included the poor despite the constraints and created value for all The cases afford the wealth of ideas for inclusive business models

Sub-regional Statistics and Analysis ,2006 Dakar 6 is the first intermediary report to be published by the UNESCO Regional Office for Education in Africa BREDA It centers on statistics as will all the intermediary report Regional Development Dialogue ,2013 World Survey on the Role of Women in Development United Nations

Publications,2015-06-30 Ensuring women s economic empowerment and access to and control over resources requires an integrated approach to growth and development focused on gender responsive employment promotion and informed by the interdependency between economic and social development Social objectives need to be incorporated into economic policies Economic growth strategies should give attention to the real economy and focus on creating a gender sensitive macroeconomic environment full employment and decent work access to land property and other productive resources as well as financial services and full coverage of social protection measures The Survey outlines a number of concrete recommendations in these critical areas which if adopted will facilitate women s equitable access to and control over economic and financial resources
