Evaluation and Accountability in Clinical Training E. Berler, Barry A. Edelstein, 2013-11-11 Accountability in clinical training implies a strong relationship between the training outcomes touted by a training program and the performance of its graduates The training program and its faculty must be able to ensure that students have the competencies necessary for entering the profession and can offer competent services In addition responsibility for the quality and value of training must be assumed by the profession Pressure for accountability is becoming increasingly apparent as the public learns about fraud waste and abuse in publicly funded programs Fishman Neigher 1982 Federally supported clinical training programs have had to defend their training practices against threats of funding loss without the hard data needed to support their practices Funding seems to have been forthcoming mostly because of our ability to demonstrate the need for clinical counseling and school psychologists Graduates seeking professional careers in such applied fields demand considerable trust from their clientele and the public at large when they establish themselves offer and advertise their services make claims on public monies and profess to do good and no harm Neither their clientele nor the public are in the position to evaluate the services of the profession or the claims made for these American Psychological Association IAPA 1982 p
The New Handbook of Teacher Evaluation Jason Millman, Linda Darling-Hammond, 1990
The 25 chapters in this handbook examine evaluation purposes processes and methods and discuss how they shape the implementation and outcomes of evaluation Following an introduction in chapter 1 the nine chapters in Part I consider the purposes of evaluation Chapters 3 4 and 5 are concerned with the evaluation processes that determine selection into teaching preservice evaluation licensure and certification Chapters 6 7 and 8 focus on how evaluation may support the development of greater teaching competencies for beginning and veteran teachers Chapters 9 and 10 consider school accountability and school improvement Part II examines the various methods used to evaluate teachers along with their strengths and limitations as applied to the many purposes of evaluation Chapters 11 and 12 deal with two methods for evaluating inservice teachers classroom observations and ratings of classroom performance while chapter 13 deals with teacher self assessment Chapters 14 and 15 deal with less widely used methods the use of student test scores and the use of teacher portfolios Chapters 16 through 18 address the use of formal tests to evaluate teachers for licensure or certification and chapter 19 discusses combining evaluation data from multiple sources for decision making In Part III some of the system wide concerns that developers and users of evaluation plans must confront are discussed Chapters explore legal ethical administrative and economic aspects of teacher evaluation and ways to improve and support teacher evaluation The use of personnel standards to improve teacher evaluation is also discussed Each chapter contains references Contains six figures and four tables
