World Systems Of Traditional Resource Management:

World Systems of Traditional Resource Management Gary A. Klee,1980 Traditional Ecological Knowledge of Resource Management in Asia Suresh Chand Rai,Prabuddh Kumar Mishra,2023-01-01 This book highlights the different ways of traditional ecological knowledge TEK practices that conserve natural resources sustainably Traditional ecological knowledge TEK along with synonymous or closely related terms like indigenous knowledge and native science originates in the literature on international development and adaptive management Against the backdrop of unprecedented global degradation and reduction in ecosystem services with impacts on human well being over the last 50 years there is a growing interest in the role of traditional ecological knowledge TEK practices and systems of local communities in ensuring the sustainable utilization and management of resources In this context this book comprehensively analyzes the important aspects of natural resources in Asia This book covers a detailed study of the different aspects of natural resources It is divided into three sections which deal with varying dimensions of indigenous ecological knowledge of resource management in Asia The first part reflects upon the concept of traditional ecological knowledge the second part analyzes the systematic documentation of TEK practices and the third part deals with policy for governance This book critically describes and explains the indigenous knowledge about resource management This book is the ideal text for undergraduate postgraduate and research scholars in India and abroad This book is designed in such a manner that it covers all the aspects of natural resources It also helps the administrator and policymakers use indigenous knowledge in resource management Traditional Ecological Knowledge International Program on Traditional Ecological Knowledge,International Development Research Centre (Canada),1993 Traditional Ecological Knowledge Concepts and cases Sustainable Agricultural Systems Edwards,2020-11-25 A unique look at how the adoption of sustainable farming methods is being pursued throughout the world This comprehensive book provides clear insight into research and education needs and the many points of view that come to bear on the issue of sustainability Essential for agricultural leaders in research education conservation policy making and anyone else interested in creating an economically and environmentally sustainable agriculture worldwide Agricultural Terracing Development Perspectives Ek Raj Ojha,2017-06-21 Agricultural terracing is intrinsically intertwined with the overall livelihoods and living style and situation of people This is most distinctly so in highlands of predominantly agricultural regions and countries In many important ways in the similar vein the processes and patterns of sustained growth and development in human settlements such as the rural settings in particular have very strong linkages with agricultural terrace systems Clearly therefore the need for and importance of improved and sustainable management of and hence a better understanding about these systems have been persistently growing Besides technical and financial backing a thorough understanding of and due consideration to the location and people are crucial Only then achieving the aims and ambitions of any conservation program would be possible Being a brief yet balanced account of various vital aspects of agricultural terracing this book should be of considerable interest and use to everyone concerned with using the land and preventing its degradation. However, its extensive readership may mostly comprise planners, policymakers, professionals as well as student researchers, teachers, and students of agriculture and forestry, agriculturists, silviculturists, pedologists, extension workers, environmentalists, conservationists, nature lovers, tourism promoters, resort managers, landscape architects, and some farmers.

Traditional Resource Management in the Melanesian South Pacific Graham B. K. Baines, 1989 Sacred Landscapes, Indigenous Knowledge, and Ethno-culture in Natural Resource Management Suresh Chand Rai, Prabuddh Kumar Mishra, 2024-09-20 This book examines the relationship between sacred landscapes, indigenous knowledge, ethno-culture, and natural resource management. The volume contributes to the existing literature on landscape studies and cultural geography by examining local perceptions toward multiple aspects of sacred landscape and ethno-culture under changing social and economic contexts with case studies from diverse cultural and geographical areas worldwide. The book is useful for undergraduate and graduate students, policymakers, planners, park managers, and government officials to understand the needs for and natural resources of an area as well as the effect of park policies on people to establish their mutually beneficial relationships. Readers learn how to integrate the concept of sacred landscapes, indigenous knowledge, ethno-culture, and natural resources management to improve human resilience to global environmental change and to assess the proper development program in resource-deprived areas.

Fragile Lands Of Latin America John O. Browder, 2019-04-11 This book of selected research papers originally presented at the Symposium of Fragile Lands of Latin America: The Search for Sustainable Uses presents some fresh evidence of the viability of a few non-conventional strategies for natural resource development and management.

Encyclopedia of Biodiversity, 2013-02-05 The 7-volume Encyclopedia of Biodiversity Second Edition maintains the reputation of the highly regarded original, presenting the most current information available in this globally crucial area of research and study. It brings together the dimensions of biodiversity and examines both the services it provides and the measures to protect it. Major themes of the work include the evolution of biodiversity systems for classifying and defining biodiversity, ecological patterns and theories of biodiversity, and an assessment of contemporary patterns and trends in biodiversity. The science of biodiversity has become the science of our future. It is an interdisciplinary field spanning areas of both physical and life sciences. Our awareness of the loss of biodiversity has brought a long overdue appreciation of the magnitude of this loss and a determination to develop the tools to protect our future. Second edition includes over 100 new articles and 226 updated articles covering this multidisciplinary field from evolution to habits to economics in 7 volumes. The editors of this edition are all well-respected, instantly recognizable academics operating at the top of their respective fields in biodiversity research; readers can be assured that they are reading material that has been meticulously checked and reviewed by experts. Approximately 1,800 figures and 350 tables complement the text, and more than 3,000 glossary entries explain key terms.

Asia and the Pacific Kenneth Ruddle, Robert Earle Johannes, 1985 FAO Fisheries Technical Paper, 1985 Proceedings of the 1986 International Agroforestry Shortcourse Dennis Lee Lynch, David R. Eitemiller, 1987 Greening the College Curriculum Jonathan Collett, Stephen Karakashian, 1996 Greening the College Curriculum provides the tools college and university faculty need to meet personal and institutional goals for integrating environmental issues into the curriculum. Leading educators from a wide range of fields including anthropology, biology, economics, geography, history, literature, journalism, philosophy, political science, and religion describe their experience introducing environmental issues into their teaching. The book provides a rationale for including material on the environment in the teaching of the basic concepts of each discipline, guidelines for constructing a unit or a full course at the introductory level that makes use of environmental subjects, sample plans for upper level courses, a compendium of annotated resources both print and nonprint. Contributors to the volume include David Orr, David G. Campbell, Lisa Naughton, Emily Young, John Opie, Holmes Rolston III, Michael E. Kraft, Steven Rockefeller, and others.
