The Expression of Time Wolfgang Klein, Ping Li, 2009-03-26 Time is the most fundamental category of human cognition and action and all human languages have developed many devices to express it These include verbal categories such as tense and aspect but also adverbials particles and principles of discourse organisation This book is intended as a tutorial for the study of how time is expressed in natural languages Its chapters take the reader through a number of foundational issues such as the various notions of time and the various means to express it other chapters are devoted to more specific questions such as the acquisition of time its modelling in formal semantics and in computational linguistics or how its expression can be empirically investigated

Task-based grammar teaching of English Susanne Niemeier, 2017-10-23 The focus on communication in TBLT often comes at the expense of form In this book the task based approach is enhanced and coupled with insights into cognitive grammar an approach which sees grammar as meaningful The book shows how grammar teaching can be integrated into a communicative lesson in a non explicit way i.e. by the backdoor The learners are involved in situations that they may also encounter outside their classrooms and they are given communicative tasks they are to work on and solve usually with a partner or in small groups What teachers need to invest for preparing such lessons is their own creativity as they have to come up with communicative situations which guide the learners into using a specific grammatical structure The book first discusses the didactic and the linguistic theories involved and then translates these theoretical perspectives into actual teaching practice focusing on the following grammatical phenomena tense aspect modality conditionals passive voice prepositions phrasal verbs verb complementation pronouns and articles
