Transportation and Environmental Operations,1972 Strategy development in humanitarian NGO positioning and the rise of FCOs Julian J. Rossig,2016-07-29 As competition over donations for humanitarian aid projects intensifies traditional German NGOs come under additional pressure from an unlikely side A new breed of aggressively expanding market entrants monopolizes distribution channels thus obtaining a significant market share Lacking any own aid projects however these organizations distribute the raised donations to traditional NGOs This unusual set up leaves NGO executives searching for a strategic response While the new competitor s funding is clearly a welcome treat the competitive aspect is much less pleasing This study revisits contemporary approaches to positioning strategy formulation deducing a systematization of fundraising campaign organizations FCOs and offering helpful recommendations for NGO executives Non-formal Education as a Strategy in Development Alemneh Dejene,1980 Information and communication management strategy development Gumbs, B.,2012-12-31 Organisations need to use their information and knowledge resources in an efficient and effective manner Hence the goal of this manual which is to help build the ICM strategy development skills of agriculture and rural development organisations in ACP countries Based on a review of work already done in the area CTA has developed two publications this User s manual and a Facilitator s guide see CTA no 1726 Presented in modules with a CD of slides and other resources the manuals stress the importance of teamwork consultation and getting the buy in of all stakeholders Agricultural Strategy Development in West Africa: The False Promise of Participation? Fernandez,1990-09-07 A collection of original articles by leading practitioners and researchers this volume examines methods for human resource forecasting and planning to meet the strategic needs of the organization As the editors note at the outset changing characteristics of the workforce and new skill demands mean that human resource planning must become an integral part of corporate strategy development and implementation In order to compete successfully in an era of rapid technological change organizations must be able to adequately forecast their needs for different types of employees consider the extent to which current employees have the needed skills and examine labor force availability This book describes ways to collect the necessary environmental data and formulate human resource strategies that recognize current and anticipated changes both in the organization and in the environment in which it operates The volume begins with a discussion of environmental scanning techniques The contributors demonstrate how to identify environmental trends including labor force demographics and how to apply this information to the development of human resource strategies The second section considers ways to analyze the organization s future human resource needs by examining employee demographics and job attitudes In Part Three the contributors describe how organizations formulate human resource strategies in response to environmental trends and organizational goals The next group of chapters offers examples of the human resource implications of organizational change This section includes separate chapters on job loss and employee assistance programs and the effects of a corporate merger as well as two case studies of the relationship between human resource planning and corporate strategic goals The contributors conclude by describing organizational reactions to changing environments brought about by an aging workforce work at home jobs new computer and telecommunications technologies and the increasing cultural diversity of the workforce Indispensable for human resource managers and corporate planning executives this book will also be of significant value to researchers and students in human resource and strategic planning programs
