Sporting Chance:

The sporting chance Claude Askew, Alice Askew, 2023-07-09 In The Sporting Chance readers are invited to explore a meticulously curated anthology that navigates the exhilarating theme of risk and the human spirit's quest for triumph against the odds. This collection embraces a diverse range of literary styles from vivid narratives and thrilling escapades to poignant reflections on the sporting life capturing the essence of adventure and resilience. The compilation's breadth underscores the multifaceted nature of sports and competition offering standout pieces that resonate with the universal pursuit of excellence and the challenges therein. The anthology brings together the collaborative genius of Claude and Alice Askew two luminaries whose contributions have profoundly influenced early 20th century literature. Their works echo the sentiments of an era brimming with change and exploration where sports served as a metaphor for broader cultural shifts. As a cohesive unit the Askews imbue this collection with their unique perspective interweaving historical insights with cultural nuances that enrich the understanding of sports within literary contexts encapsulating the spirit of an age on the cusp of modernity. The Sporting Chance offers readers a unique opportunity to traverse a spectrum of experiences through the eyes of gifted storytellers. Engage with this anthology to uncover the layers of meaning within each tale fostering a deeper appreciation for the diverse voices united under the singular theme of sportsmanship. Perfect for those seeking both entertainment and enlightenment this volume promises to expand one's literary horizon while inviting introspection about the immutable human spirit facing adversity and seizing the moment for greatness.

A Sporting Chance Margaret Cameron, 1926 The Routledge Handbook of Mega-Sporting Events and Human Rights William Rook, Daniela Heerdt, 2023-10-04 The Routledge Handbook of Mega-Sporting Events and Human Rights is the first book to explore in depth the topic of mega sporting events (MSEs) and human rights offering accounts of adverse human rights impacts linked to MSEs while considering the potential for promoting human rights in and through the framework of these events. Drawing on the contributions of an international group of leading researchers practitioners and advocates the book introduces key concepts in human rights and considers how they relate to ethical social managerial and governance issues in contemporary MSEs from inclusion and welfare to corruption and sustainability. It examines the role of key stakeholders in the delivery of MSEs including organising committees sport governing bodies governments athletes sponsors and broadcasters as well as the role of activists and advocates and presents historical and contemporary case studies of human rights as an active issue in MSEs. The book provides new perspectives on human rights as a lens for understanding modern sport and as a guiding principle for responsible sport that protects the interests of individuals and communities as well as offering guidance on best practice. It is essential reading for all advanced students researchers practitioners policymakers and stakeholders with an interest in organisation and delivery of MSEs as well as general sport management sport policy sport governance the ethics of sport event management political science development studies ethical business or the significance of sport in wider society.

Affect Theory and Comparative Education Discourse Irving Epstein, 2019-07-11

What does educational policy making and institutional practice entail in an era of globalization? Global interactions challenge conventional assumptions governing the certainty of geographical boundedness, simplistic notions of citizenship and identity, fixed notions of time, space and movement, and clear distinctions between economic modes of production and consumption. Irving Epstein argues that conventional educational institutions and the policies that support them tend to ignore such anxiety by affirming a belief in educational modernism to the exclusion of other possibilities. What is missing in most of these analyses is an appreciation for the role of affect in determining how our encounters with these practices become significant and how our efforts to find meaning in those policies and practices lead to their acceptance or rejection. This book is the first application of affect theory to comparative education themes and shows how it can help to form a more robust discussion of the policy making process and the popular reactions to it. After discussing the key concepts associated with affect theory, he presents a total of six case studies. Three of the cases depict relationships between educational, cultural and social organizations whose purposes conflict with one another but whose presence is indicative of a loss of faith in the efficacy of public schooling. Three of the cases are illustrative of an even greater systematic rejection of educational institutional aim and purpose.
