Comprehensive, Competence-based Parenting Assessment for Parents with Learning Difficulties and Their Children Maurice Abraham Feldman, Marjorie Aunos, 2011 This book presents an innovative empirically supported approach to assessing parenting capacity of parents with learning difficulties that can lead to more humane fair and accurate child custody decisions The authors are leading researchers and practitioners in this field having worked with hundreds of these families Many professionals working with these families recognize that current parenting capacity assessment approaches are based on outdated and invalid assumptions and methods This book addresses the unique assessment needs of these families and includes detailed background information rationales and methods After a comprehensive literature review the authors provide a theoretical interactional model underlying their assessment approach The remainder of the book is devoted to a detailed description of the comprehensive competence based parenting capacity assessment method and includes many examples and two case studies This book is an indispensable resource for all professionals involved with parents who have learning difficulties and their children Book jacket

The Effect of Parenting on Child and Adolescence Development Yanfang Li, Bin-Bin Chen, Yufang Bian, Wenchao Ma, Lichan Liang, 2025-11-18 Families and parents have the most central and enduring influence on children's lives Of all the modifiable factors that influence child and adolescent development and life course outcomes the important role of parenting arouses the interest of many researchers Exploring the effect of parenting on their children's social emotional adjustment mental health and academic achievement and its underlying mechanism could provide an extremely important reference for early intervention prevention and treatment Despite a large number of local national or international empirical studies in this field some questions are still open for discussion such as the underlying mechanism of the association between parents cognition parenting practices and child development under a comprehensive system of parenting in a different demographic e.g. racial ethnic and economic contexts the changes of parenting accompanied with social change and era development the interaction of parenting and other factors within family system or other external systems e.g. school and so on For this Research Topic we adopt a broad definition of parenting including parents opinions and feelings about their own parenting roles and parents beliefs attitudes socialization goals and parenting practices toward their children The main aim is to explore the effect of parenting on child and adolescent development including self social emotional and academic development which can help further design effective intervention programs to promote children's and adolescents positive development via effective parenting We are particularly interested in manuscripts focusing on the following research subtopics

- 1 Theories and underlying mechanisms mediators or moderators to explain why and how could parenting affect child and adolescent development
- 2 The associations between parenting and child development in different demographic contexts or at different times 3 The similarities and discrepancies between children and parent report about parenting and its influence on the child and adolescent development 4 The specific effect of paternal parenting or the effect of co parenting on child and adolescent development 5 The potential interaction effect of parenting and other factors such as teacher peer grandparent and sibling on child and adolescent development Quantitative studies e g cross sectional and longitudinal studies cohort studies experimental studies intervention studies meta analysis and qualitative studies e g interview studies observational studies systematic review are both welcome

Parenting Across Cultures Helaine Selin,2022-11-22 This second edition of Helaine Selin s successful Parenting Across Cultures comes at a time where interest in parenting has increased across the world as a result of the COVID pandemic as parents and children were put into different and often challenging conditions This new edition like the first contains chapters from countries in Asia Africa and South America as well as from indigenous cultures of several Western countries The chapters were revised to include new research in the post pandemic world They show that there is a strong connection between culture and parenting there are differences in affection and distance harshness and repression and acceptance and criticism Some parents insist on obedience others are concerned with individual development This clearly differs from parent to parent but there is just as clearly a connection to culture which these chapters explore In addition to the chapters on individual countries the second edition includes a section on the pandemic as well as new research on parenting and technology gender religion adoption step parenting divorce single parents racism gay parents disabilities autism eating habits transgender attachment migration bullying and refugee resettlement

Psycho-Legal Concepts for Parenting in Child Custody and Child Protection Vol. 3 Don Tustin,2024-12-02 This book identifies a number of topics that arise in child protection where assessments of individual families are required The author opines that it is essential to use structured instruments when making assessments on complex topic about risk to reduce bias and to maximise objectivity The author summarises criteria that are required for an assessment instrument to be viewed by scientists as being objective The book proposes that introducing more objective assessment instruments into the field of child protection will improve the focus and brevity of assessment reports and enable setting of thresholds that distinguish between families who provide good enough parenting from families who should be referred for parenting education and from parents who are unfit parents The author identifies a number of topics that commonly arise in cases where maltreatment of children is alleged reviews literature and proposes checklists that can be used to gather data and to form a basis for developing validated assessment instruments for use in child protection The topics identified are relevant both to therapists as parenting practices can be changed using focused therapy and for legal assessment purposes as topics have been shown to be related to legal concerns about the safety and welfare of children The overall aim of this book is to encourage greater use of scientific assessment approaches in the field of child protection

Working with Trauma-Exposed Children and Adolescents Joanna Pozzulo,Craig Bennell,2018-12-07 Far too often children and youth

experience trauma from rare events such as mass shootings terrorism attacks and school lockdowns to very common occurrences such as bullying exposure to drugs and alcohol or various mental health issues They can experience these events both directly and indirectly from surfing the internet watching television or through their friends Our children spend a large portion of their day at school interacting with other students teachers and school personnel where these topics are raised and discussed This edited volume addresses how our teachers and school personnel can help students deal with these potentially traumatic events to reach the most positive possible outcomes This collection brings together leading experts including academics and professionals working in the field to provide the most current evidence based practices on how to help students who may have experienced or witnessed trauma It presents research and advice on how to respond to traumatic events regarding bullying drugs and alcohol sexual abuse mental health lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer LGBTQ safety stranger danger childhood disruptive behaviors school shootings and lockdowns and terrorism It also includes a chapter focused on how to implement a school safety program Schools cannot deal with these issues alone effective strategies must engage family members and the broader community Hence the collection includes a chapter on how schools can partner with families and the communities they reside in to bring about positive change All this work pays close attention to cultural and religious sensitivity socio economic variabilities diversity issues and developmental stages
