Time For Sleeping:

Night-time and Sleep in Asia and the West Lodewijk Brunt, Brigitte Steger, 2004-06 Drawing together case studies from Asia and Europe the reader can see the differences in cultural importance given to the night and how the challenges and opportunities of modernity have been played out in the East and the West

The Origins, Prevention and Treatment of Infant Crying and Sleeping Problems Ian St James-Roberts, 2013-07-03 Babies who cry a lot or are unsettled in the night are common sources of concern for parents and consequently costly problems for health services In this book Ian St James Roberts summarises the evidence concerning infant crying and sleeping problems to provide a new evidence based approach to these common challenges for parents and health services The book begins by distinguishing between infant and parental parts of the problems and provides guidelines for assessing each issue Topics covered include the pros and cons of infant demand versus limit setting forms of parenting causes of infant colicky crying and night waking effects of night time separations on infant attachments interventions such as swaddling herbal remedies and controlled crying Since there is now firm evidence that parents vulnerabilities and cultural backgrounds affect how problems are defined and guidance is acted upon and that parents who wish to do so can reduce infant crying and unsettled night waking social factors are considered alongside medical issues Translating research evidence into practical tools and guidance The Origins Prevention and Treatment of Infant Crying and Sleeping Problems will be essential reading for a wide range of healthcare professionals including mental health staff social workers midwives health visitors community physicians and paediatricians
