Socratic Classroom presents a theoretical as well as practical exploration of how philosophy may be adopted in education. The Socratic Classroom captures a variety of philosophical approaches to classroom practice that could be broadly described as Socratic in form. There is an exploration of three distinct approaches that make significant contributions to classroom practice: Matthew Lipman's Community of Inquiry, Leonard Nelson's Socratic Dialogue, and David Bohm's Dialogue. All three models influence what is termed in this book as Socratic pedagogy. Socratic pedagogy is multi-dimensional and is underpinned by generative, evaluative, and connective thinking. These terms describe the dispositions inherent in thinking through philosophical inquiry. This book highlights how philosophy as inquiry can contribute to educational theory and practice while also demonstrating how it can be an effective way to approach teaching and learning.

Audience: This publication is suited to educators, teacher educators, philosophers of education, and philosophers in general. It has a theoretical and practical focus, making it truly interdisciplinary.

On Søren Kierkegaard Edward F. Mooney, 2017-03-02
Tracing a path through Kierkegaard's writings, this book brings the reader into close contact with the texts and purposes of this remarkable 19th-century Danish writer and thinker. Kierkegaard writes in a number of voices and registers as a sharp observer and critic of Danish culture, or as a moral psychologist, and as a writer concerned to evoke the religious way of life of Socrates, Abraham, or a Christian exemplar. In developing these themes, Mooney sketches Kierkegaard's Socratic vocation, gives a close reading of several central texts, and traces The Ethical Sublime as a recurrent theme. He unfolds an affirmative relationship between philosophy and theology and the potentialities for a religiousness that defies dogmatic creeds, secular chauvinisms, and restrictive philosophies.

Introduction to Oracy Jackie Holderness, 1998-05-01
Oracy is a subject currently undergoing examination due to the emphasis placed upon it by the National Curriculum. With an emphasis on practice but embracing the major theoretical issues involved, this book contains numerous exercises examining the issues surrounding oracy in schools. It describes the many ways in which teachers can encourage pupils to talk using picture books, media-based discussions, and English as a second language.

The Digital Turn in Higher Education David Kergel, Birte Heidkamp, Patrik Kjærdsdam, Tellés, Tadeusz Rachwał, Samuel Nowakowski, 2017-10-24
The book deals with the digital turn in higher education. One aim of this book is to address the challenge by providing a multi-disciplinary international perspective on higher education during the digital turn. It presents epistemological, ethical, and theoretical approaches and best practice examples from universities in different countries using different learning strategies. The book can be understood as an international and interdisciplinary collection providing heuristic strategies for handling the digitalization of higher education in theory and in practice.

Knowledge, Control and Critical Thinking in Singapore Leonel Lim, 2015-09-07
This book examines how critical thinking is regulated in Singapore through the process of what the influential sociologist of education Basil Bernstein termed pedagogic recontextualization. The ability of critical thinking to speak to alternative possibilities and individual autonomy, as well as its assumptions of a liberal arrangement of society, is problematized in Singapore's socio political climate By examining how such curricular discourses are taken up and enacted in the classrooms of two schools that cater to very different groups in society the book foregrounds the role of traditional high status knowledge in the elaboration of class formation and develops a critical understanding of post developmental state initiatives linked to the parable of modernization in Singapore Knowledge Control and Critical Thinking in Singapore offers chapters on Critical Thinking and the Singapore State Meritocracy Illiberalism and Neoliberalism Sacred Knowledge and Elite Dispositions Recontextualizing Critical Thinking in an Elite School Power Knowledge and Symbolic Control Official Pedagogic Identities and the Politics of Recontextualization This book will appeal to scholars in comparative education studies curriculum studies and education reform It will also interest scholars engaged in Asian studies who are struggling to understand issues of education policy formation and implementation particularly in the areas of critical thinking and other knowledge skills Socratic Dialogue
