Times Fool:

The Time is Out of Joint Agnes Heller, 2002 The Time Is Out of Joint presents an examination of Shakespeare's distinctly modern confrontation with time and temporality the difference between the truth of the fact that of theory and that of interpretation and revelatory truth and finds that Shakespeare anticipated post metaphysical philosophy and its central concerns at a time when modern metaphysics had not yet reached it speak Visit our website for sample chapters

The Musical Times & Singing-class Circular, 1925 Fads, Fakes, Freaks, Frauds, and Fools William Edward Shepard, 1923 Fool's Gold? Scott Shane, 2008-11-12 The stereotype of the angel investor is a retired wealthy entrepreneur who sees potential asks tough questions takes a large stake and in a few years makes a massive return in an IPO This outsider fills the gap between the venture capitalist and the professional investor swooping in with cash and expertise to bring dreams to fruition Unfortunately Shane observes this figure bears no relationship to reality In Fool's Gold he draws on hard data from the Federal Reserve and other sources to paint the first reliable group portrait of the lionized angel investors Surprisingly he finds that they are fewer contribute less and involve themselves in fewer start ups than the conventional wisdom suggests Most angels typically still have their day jobs make investments of 10 000 or less and take little or no role in assisting entrepreneurs build their companies Few of the companies they put money into arrive at IPOs let alone massive returns But angels can play a critical role he writes if the fantasy is abandoned by all concerned Drawing on his rich store of data Shane offers recommendations to entrepreneurs and angels alike for the most productive use of angel investing and suggests how policymakers can encourage it Particularly promising are angel groups which pool knowledge and money for wiser and more productive investments In groups angels can rely on each other's expertise share the labor of performing due diligence and generally insure that their money is being placed and used wisely Fostering the formation of such groups may be the single most important thing that government can do to boost angel investing Massively researched and briskly written Fools Gold offers the first real resource on this misunderstood aspect of our entrepreneurial system
