Tanks World War II Fighting Armour:

Russian Armour in the Second World War Michael Green, 2013-09-19 This WWII pictorial history of Russia's tanks and armored fighting vehicles provides a vivid look at the Eastern Front through rare wartime photographs. When Hitler's armies advanced into Russia it was Stalin's tanks and armored fighting vehicles that finally pushed them back from the outskirts of Moscow. At the Battle of Kursk in the summer of 1943 the Soviet tanks and AFVs proved their effectiveness by defeating the cream of the Panzertruppen. From that point on the tanks and armored fighting vehicles of the Red Army continued their offensive operations until they victoriously entered Berlin in April and May of 1945. In this fascinating pictorial history military expert Michael Green provides historical images of the full range of Russian armor as well as exterior and interior color photos of preserved and restored tanks and AFVs from the period. This latest book in the Images of War series brings to life the Red Army's efforts to repel Hitler's Panzer Armies. Armor, 2003 The Encyclopedia of Weapons of World War II Chris Bishop, 2002 A lavishly illustrated compendium of military hardware covers everything that fought in the air on the ground and on the seas during World War II. There are more than 500 separate items of equipment used between 1939 and 1945 from combat handguns to massive aircraft carriers. More than 600 full color artworks accompany entries that feature a detailed history of each weapon's design and development along with a full specifications table that includes performance dimensions, armament, and crew details. A must have for military buffs. Encyclopedia of Tanks Duncan Crow, Robert Joseph Icks, 1975 The Encyclopedia of Tanks and Armoured Fighting Vehicles Christopher F. Foss, 2002 Tanks and armoured fighting vehicles have revolutionised modern warfare dominating the battlefield in conflicts all over the world with their firepower, armour, and mobility. Featured in this book are over 900 tanks, armoured personnel carriers, self-propelled guns, reconnaissance vehicles, and armoured cars. Armies & Weapons, 1980 The Battle of Kursk David M. Glantz, Jonathan Mallory House, 1999 A study of the Battle of Kursk at Prokhorovka, one of the largest tank engagements in world history which led to staggering losses including nearly 200,000 Soviet and 50,000 German casualties within the first ten days of fighting. Drawing on both German and Soviet sources, David M. Glantz and Jonathan M. House seek to separate myth from fact to show what really happened at Kursk and how it affected the outcome of World War II. Their access to Soviet archive material adds detail to what is known about this conflict, enabling them to reconstruct events from both perspectives and describe combat down to the tactical level. Armoured Firepower Peter Gudgin, 1997 Charts the development of armored fighting vehicle weaponry during the WWII period by the major tank-producing combatants: Great Britain, Germany, the Soviet Union, and the US. Covers armored cars and self-propelled artillery as well as tank armament and explains functions of tank armament components of the armament systems and their uses. Details main developments through the war years in chapters devoted to individual countries, focusing on main and auxiliary armament, sighting and fire control systems, ammunition, and fighting arrangements. Includes appendices of comparative data and bandw photos and illustrations. Distributed by Books and shows why despite enormous losses the Americans persevered in the Hurtgenwald meat grinder On 16 November 1944 the 22d Infantry entered the Hurtgen Forest as part of the U S Army s drive to cross the Roer River During the next eighteen days the 22d suffered more than 2 800 casualties or about 86 percent of its normal strength of about 3 250 officers and men After three days of fighting the regiment had lost all three battalion commanders After seven days rifle company strengths stood at 50 percent and by battle s end each had suffered nearly 140 percent casualties Despite these horrendous losses the 22d Regiment survived and fought on due in part to army personnel policies that ensured that unit strengths remained high even during extreme combat Previously wounded soldiers returned to their units and new replacements green to battle arrived to follow the remaining battle hardened cadre The German units in the Hurtgenwald suffered the same horrendous attrition with one telling difference German replacement policy detracted from rather than enhanced German combat effectiveness Organizations had high paper strength but low manpower and commanders consolidated decimated units time after time until these ever dwindling bands of soldiers disappeared forever killed wounded captured or surrendered The performance of American and German forces during this harrowing eighteen days of combat was largely a product of their respective backgrounds training and organization Rush s work underscores both the horrors of combat and the resiliency of
