Photography and Literature Eric Lambrechts, Luc Salu, 1992 Photography and Literature An International Bibliography of Monographs covers the period 1839-1991 It is arranged alphabetically by author photographer with numerous cross references to editors compilers illustrators translators etc It lists some 3 900 titles in about twenty languages and includes books exhibition catalogues dissertations and special issues of magazines Beyond Wilderness John O'Brian, Peter White, 2017-12-30 The great purpose of landscape art is to make us at home in our own country was the nationalist maxim motivating the Group of Seven's artistic project The empty landscape paintings of the Group played a significant role in the nationalization of nature in Canada particularly in the development of ideas about northernness wilderness and identity In

Beyond Wilderness contributors pick up where the Group of Seven left off. They demonstrate that since the 1960s a growing body of both art and critical writing has looked beyond wilderness to re-imagine landscape in a world of vastly altered political, technological, and environmental circumstances. By emphasizing social relationships, changing identity politics, and issues of colonial power and dispossession, contemporary artists have produced landscape art that explores what was absent in the work of their predecessors. Beyond Wilderness expands the public understanding of Canadian landscape representation, tracing debates about the place of landscape in Canadian art and the national imagination through the twentieth century to the present. Critical writings from both contemporary and historically significant curators, historians, feminists, media theorists, and cultural critics, and exactly reproduced artworks by contemporary and historical artists are brought together in productive dialogue. Beyond Wilderness explains why landscape art in Canada had to be reinvented and what forms the reinvention took. Encountering the North, Frank Möller, Samu Pehkonen, 2018-02-06
This title was first published in 2003. This volume is concerned with the European north above the Arctic Circle and its representations in Cultural Geography and International Relations. The chapters in the book deal with cultural geographical and political imaginations of northern peoples and landscapes. Emphasis is placed on the triangle of and interrelationship between culture, geography, and politics. The historical and contemporary variations of meaning assigned to the north point to real processes which need to be studied in their own right. To achieve this aim, the book does not plainly specify the sites and levels of discourses, be they academic, political, or popular, but it does take into account the material circumstances making the context of the European north. Illustrated by a coherent set of specially written case studies, the volume explores issues such as history, literature, gender, folk culture, pictorial representations, environment, and climate change, and links these issues with
