World Waiting To Be Made

Ralph Hale Mottram

World Waiting To Be Made:

Worldmaking Tom Clark, Emily Finlay, Philippa Kelly, 2017-01-19 In 1978 Nelson Goodman explored the relation of worlds to language and literature formulating the term worldmaking to suggest that many other worlds can as plausibly exist as the world we know right now We cannot catch or know the world as such all we can catch are the world versions descriptions views or workings of the world that are expressed in symbolic systems words music dancing visual representations Over the twenty five years since then creative works have played a crucial role in realigning reshaping and renegotiating our understandings of how worlds can be made and preserved in the face of globalizing trends The volume is divided into three sections each engaging with worlds as malleable constructs Central to all of the contributions is the question how can we understand the relationships between natural political cultural fictional literary linguistic and virtual worlds and why does this matter

Culture, Identity, Commodity Tseen Khoo, Kam Louie, 2005-10-05 Established and emerging scholars offer timely discussions of diasporic Chinese studies drawing on transnational postcolonial globalisation and racialisation theories The collection examines what is at stake in the consideration of diasporic literatures and the connections and fissures emerging in these new critical terrains Journal of the Assembly, Legislature of the State of California California. Legislature. Assembly, 1983
