Void Of Human Mind

Jalal Hazrat Khan

Void Of Human Mind:

The Void Of Human Mind Natalie Ealy,2005-01-01 The human mind offers a million different emotions We ask ourselves what it means to be alive and why we are here on this earth I believe that our constant questioning is a void of the human mind We ask ourselves questions that may never be answered but the human mind will always attempt to do so I have attempted to answer these questions through poetry My poetry is an example of my life experiences My experiences have led me to realize the meaning of my own existence I see the beauty in all things No matter what pain or pleasure I have felt it means so much more to have experienced life than to never have existed at all

Blanks, Print, Space, and Void in English Renaissance Literature Jonathan Sawday,2023-06-20 Blanks Print Space and Void in English Renaissance Literature is an inquiry into the empty spaces encountered not just on the pages of printed books in c 1500 1700 but in Renaissance culture more generally The book argues that print culture in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries helped to foster the modern idea of the gap where words texts images and ideas are constructed as missing lost withheld fragmented or perhaps never devised in the first place It re imagines how early modern people reacted not just to printed books and documents of many different kinds but also how the very idea of emptiness or absence began to be fashioned in a way which still surrounds us Jonathan Sawday leads the reader through the entire landscape of early modern print culture discussing topics such as space and silence the exploration of the vacuum the ways in which race and racial identity in early modern England were constructed by the language and technology of print blackness and whiteness together with lightness darkness and sightlessness cartography and emptiness the effect of typography on reading practices the social spaces of the page gendered surfaces hierarchies of information books of memory pages constructed as waste or vacant the genesis of blank forms and early modern bureaucracy the political and devotional spaces of printed books the impact of censorship and the problem posed by texts which lack endings or conclusions The book itself ends by dwelling on blank or empty pages as a sign of human mortality Sawday pays close attention to the writings of many of the familiar figures in English Renaissance literary culture Sidney Shakespeare Donne Jonson and Milton for example as well as introducing readers to a host of lesser known figures The book also discusses the work of numerous women writers from the period including Aphra Behn Ann Bradstreet Margaret Cavendish Lady Jane Gray Lucy Hutchinson melia Lanyer Isabella Whitney and Lady Mary Wroth

Conscience and Cognition in Social Research Zhang Qingxiong,2023-04-07 This book is a critical examination of the different roles of conscience and cognition in social research in China and the West exploring how the two traditions can enrich each other and help societies navigate through the complex intellectual and moral crises of our time Drawing on a rich array of primary and secondary sources this title traces the development of the Confucian conception of conscience from Confucius and Mencius to Xiong Shili and Mou Zongsan two representatives of Neo Confucianism This primacy of a moral sense is compared and contrasted with the tension within the Western culture between strains that place a premium on understanding and a deep commitment to the search for meaning in such philosophers as Habermas and Heidegger The author explicates why such a commitment is essential to social research and how the focus on instrumental rationality that has defined modernity may be corrected by recentring the role of conscience on intellectual inquiry in general To that end both Chinese and Western cultures have plenty to offer both in terms of substantive insights and research methodologies The book will be a crucial reference for scholars and students interested in Western philosophy comparative philosophy and Chinese philosophy The New Philosophy ,1922 The Architecture of Existence: The Axiom Set and the Chain of Reflection Jalal Hazrat Khan,2025-12-17 This book presents a closed axiomatic architecture describing existence through non necessity closure asymmetry pressure and reflection It introduces the Chain of Reflection and a formal verification structure demonstrating how continuity cognition and self experience arise as structural consequences rather than assumptions The text is organized as axioms codex and manual intended as a generative system rather than philosophical commentary
