Soldiers Bride:

Entangling Alliances Susan Zeiger,2010-03-01 Throughout the twentieth century American male soldiers returned home from wars with foreign born wives in tow often from allied but at times from enemy nations resulting in a new official category of immigrant the allied war bride These brides began to appear en masse after World War I peaked after World War II and persisted through the Korean and Vietnam Wars GIs also met and married former enemy women under conditions of postwar occupation although at times the US government banned such unions In this comprehensive complex history of war brides in 20th century American history Susan Zeiger uses relationships between American male soldiers and foreign women as a lens to view larger issues of sexuality race and gender in United States foreign relations Entangling Alliances draws on a rich array of sources to trace how war and postwar anxieties about power and national identity have long been projected onto war brides and how these anxieties translate into public policies particularly immigration

The Soldier's Bride

Rachelle J. Christensen,2016-03-15 As WWII ration cards and battle scars become commonplace across America it seems to Evelyn that even love is rationed out When she finds a message from her late husband tucked inside a music box Jim s words have the power to change her life Don t die with me Words written out of love long lost but never forgotten Grief stricken Evelyn is unsure of how to honor his request but she finds the courage to keep on living Jim s note urges her to give the music box away to unlock the secret within and although it breaks her heart again Evelyn trades the music box for a cradle to hold her infant son Thus begins the decades long journey of the music box mending broken hearts reuniting lost loves and giving people the courage to heal themselves along the way This romance crosses battlefields and time as the music box touches the lives of two soldiers a broken father a crippled child a struggling farmer and a woman once called the soldier s bride

Koreatowns Jinwon Kim,Soo Mee Kim,Stephen Cho Suh,2020-06-30 This collection defines Koreatowns as spatial configurations that concentrate elements of Korea demographically economically politically and culturally The contributors provide exploratory accounts and critical evaluations of Koreatowns in different countries throughout the world Ranging from familiar settings such as Los Angeles and New York City to more unfamiliar locales such as Singapore Beijing Mexico U S Mexico borderlands and the American Midwest this collection not only examines the social characteristics and contours of these spaces but also the types of discourses and symbols that they exude

French War Brides Hilary Kaiser,2017-05-07

Following both World War I and II about 6 500 Franco American marriages took place between French mademoiselles and American soldiers be they doughboys or GI s These women who came from different parts of France and diverse background would later cross the Atlantic to join husbands settle in various corners of America suffer culture shock and adapt to marriage in a foreign land of postwar plenty with varying degrees of success Despite these difficulties like many other immigrants they got on with it and survived As the compelling oral histories in this book show most of them did in their own way live the American dream

Reality in Rhyme Gary Attrill,2012-12-19 I consider that I am a spontaneous writer I do no planning or preparation of any sort I have no training or guidance in what or how I write I am motivated subconsciously by an event comment action or just about anything that I find interesting disturbing or beautiful I know not what it will be that will next fill my head with words as I cannot write for the sake of writing I have now compiled approximately 170 poems Most of my writing occurs in the middle of the night awoken from sleep with words flying around in my head like bats in a cave Many times I rise and write immediately Other times it stays with me repeating itself until the sun rises and its then that I put pen to paper What annoys me the most is my inability to remember any of my writings I may remember a line or two but no more I have been writing since 1999 although I did jot down a few lines in 1971 to my then fiance Penelope after I was conscripted into the Australian army We married in 1972 and still love enjoy and cherish the company of each other I have compiled these writings so that in years to come my children grandchildren and any thereafter have an insight into my self and the times that I lived It will give them the opportunity to maybe compare their thoughts with mine It is with pleasure that I thank my family for their support and belief But there are also other people without whose encouragement I could not have progressed this far My wifes late mother Bernadine was my greatest fan My work colleagues Sandra Casey Adam Sue Ellen and Denise were always there with feedback I hope also that anyone and everyone who takes the time to read the words that I write get as much pleasure reading them as I do writing them
