The Prisoner Files John Peel, 1987      The Madhouse Daniel Hammarberg, 2011

Have you ever grown tired of the constant white washing of Socialist countries by today's mass media? Well here's the antidote: a 120,000 word exposé on the real contemporary Sweden, fully unmasked in all its vileness. Hear about the five teenagers who have taken their lives the last couple of years as a consequence of being forcibly taken from their families and put into orphanages, the families whose children were taken by the government as they attempted to leave the country, and the ex-Communists who want to make the very attempt to do so, a crime the social authorities justifying in official documents. Seizing a woman's newborn child at the maternity hospital, the Muslim man who won a discrimination lawsuit after botching a job interview from refusing to shake a woman's hand, and also sued the government after losing welfare payouts from not shaking the hands of the female welfare officer, the homosexual man who attempted to sue the municipality after he was prevented from browsing naked personal ads at the library, and about the prisoner who filed a complaint with the government after the warden in charge of him told him to shut up the world's most luxurious prisons, and the inmates talking about how joyful their stays were. Swedish inmates get to choose where they want to do their time, and they can afford to be picky: the convicted rapist who cost society eleven legal proceedings to keep the porn magazines that had been taken from him, and finishes by suing the government for damages because the prison had kept them from him; the military man who while heavily intoxicated shot dead seven people and landed 48 out of 48 fired bullets against running victims, to then be granted furloughs after only a couple of years in prison; the male Supreme Court Justice who was convicted of having illegally bought sexual services from a young man and then was able to stay on his post, the elite of Swedish society during the 1970s molesting underage girls who were wards of the state, including two prime ministers as suspects, as well as the society that has only a fine as standard punishment for distributing child porn; the physically disabled and immobile immigrant who's got eleven government-paid personal assistants so that he can drink whiskey and smoke cigarettes all day; the 79 parliamentary bills that address LGBT rights and cover everything in society from elder care to foreign aid. Unfortunately, only a fraction of SIDA's, the foreign aid agency budget, today goes to LGBT work.

From one of the bills: how doctors can be sentenced to prison for refusing to perform abortions, and shepherds that risk being attacked by bears can't even get permits for revolvers; how citizens can be convicted of cruelty to animals if they don't spend a couple of hours every day petting their cat; the state TV that held a tribute night to Fidel Castro. Castro isn't a dictator in the sense the propaganda claims. Actual quote from this evening on top of repeated programming praising Che Guevara: the many political dissidents sentenced to prison for the views they've expressed, and learn about what they had to say; the young man who already as a teenager was convicted of hate speech and who within 12 years would have gone to court no less than 12 times over such charges; the country that almost banned publication of the Bible for its stance on homosexuality; and about the Christians sentenced to prison for preaching it. Yes, this is a compilation of stories, facts, and anecdotes from what must truly be the most insane country on the planet with nothing else like it organized into twelve chapters covering different areas of society House documents, 1893 The Madhouse: A critical study of Swedish society, The Anamosa Prison Press, 1903 Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature, 1975-1991 R.
