Standard Contract Terms in Europe Hugh Collins,2008-01-01 Ever since the Directive on Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts of 1993 the European project has been working intensively towards harmonization of contract law across all EU Member States To date virtually none of the many problems that have arisen have been resolved The SECOLA Annual Conference convened in Prague in 2005 to consider the specific topic of unfair terms and to imagine ways in which the obstacles raised by this provocative issue might be overcome In this book which presents revised versions of the papers presented at that conference fourteen outstanding European scholars examine basic questions about the differing conceptions of contract law in the national legal systems of the Member States divergent legal techniques such as interpretation of contract and divergent approaches to legal reasoning and contrasting views about the nature of the problems presented by unfair terms in contracts Among the contentious matters discussed are the following the tension between party autonomy and social justice control over freedom of contract in the name of substantive fairness and efficiency interpretation of contract terms the intrusion of competition law into contract law the disputed meanings of good faith and legitimate expectations the requirement of plain intelligible language and characterization problems Above all the essays ask Can harmonization of European contract law be achieved And if so how The answers offered not only clarify the stage we have arrived at in this ongoing initiative but also identify the essential conflicts that must be understood if we are to secure meaningful regulation of contract terms at a transnational level For these reasons the book is enormously valuable to all parties interested in this crucial component of European integration
