Tiger Eye B. M. Bower, 2020-04 The kid was running away but he was taking his time about it and he was enjoying every foot of his flight Sometimes when a curlew circled and gazed down curiously with his yellow eyes peering first one and then the other the kid would stop dead still in the trail and with his own eyes turned upward to the bird he would call Kor reck Korreck in playful mimicry Other times he would pull from his breast pocket a mouth organ worn through to the brass in places where his fingers clasped it and would polish it gravely on his sleeve set the tiny pigeonholed edge to his smooth young lips and ripple a few notes to match the meadow lark s song From that he would slide into My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean and The Spanish Cavalier But at this particular moment the mouth organ reposed in his pocket with his Bull Durham bag and he was singing A Spanish cavalier stood in his retreat And on his guitar played a tune dear The music so sweet he d oftentimes repeat The blessing of my coun try and you oo dear But for all his leisurely and tuneful progress the kid was running away and he had been running for more than a month now He was running away from several things that had begun to harry him even at twenty his father s enemies such as had outlived straightshooting old Killer Reeves but he was not running from the enemies so much as from the impending necessity of shooting them The kid had no ambition for carrying on the feud and getting the name of being a killer like Pap He did not want to kill he had seen too much of that and it carried neither novelty nor the glamour of adventure Then too he was running away from a girl who had called him Tiger Eye to his face The kid felt a streak of fire shoot up his spine when he thought of the way she had pronounced the name men called him Always before he had accepted it just as he would have accepted any other nickname suggested by something in his character or appearance but she had made it a taunt
