Time And Memory:

Time, Memory, Institution David Morris, Kym Maclaren, 2015-04-15 This collection is the first extended investigation of the relation between time and memory in Maurice Merleau-Ponty's thought as a whole and the first to explore in depth the significance of his concept of institution. It brings the French phenomenologist's views on the self and ontology into contemporary focus. Time Memory Institution argues that the self is not a self-contained or self-determining identity as such; it is gathered out of a radical openness to what is not self and that it gathers itself in a time that is not merely a given dimension but folds back upon gathers and institutes itself. Access to previously unavailable texts in particular Merleau-Ponty's lectures on institution and expression has presented scholars with new resources for thinking about time, memory and history. These essays represent the best of this new direction in scholarship; they deepen our understanding of self and world in relation to time and memory and they give occasion to reexamine Merleau-Ponty's contribution and relevance to contemporary Continental philosophy. This volume is essential reading for scholars of phenomenology and French philosophy as well as for the many readers across the arts, humanities and social sciences who continue to draw insight and inspiration from Merleau-Ponty. Contributors: Elizabeth Behnke, Edward Casey, Véronique F. J. Donald, Landes Kirsten, Jacobson Galen, Johnson Michael, Kelly Scott, Marratto Glen, Mazis Caterina, Rea John, Russon Robert, Vallier and Bernhard Waldenfels.

Time, Memory, and the Politics of Contingency Smita A. Rahman, 2014-07-11 In recent years there has been an increased attention to temporality in political theory and such attention is sorely needed. For too long political theory, with the exception of occasional phenomenological forays, has remained grounded in a particular experience of time as linear and sequential. This book aims to unsettle the dominant framework by putting time itself and the experience of time in everyday life at the center of its critical analysis. Smita Rahman focuses on the experience of time as one where past, present and future intermingle with each other and refuse to adhere to a sequential structure. Rather than trying to tame the flux of time, this book places this out-of-joint experience of time at the center of its analysis of global politics. Rahman takes the highly abstract concept of time and de-centers it to speak to a wide range of political issues across disciplines. She does so by exposing the cultural construction of the foundational concept of time in political theory and attending closely to the challenges of cultural incommensurability that it encounters in a globalized world of difference. Specifically, the book looks at interrogation practices in Afghanistan, the challenges of coping with the burdens of collective memory in Algeria, South Africa and Rwanda, the difficulty of uncritically applying such a framework to the Muslim world through the language of secularism and finally at the beginnings of democratic emergence in Bangladesh to explore a politics of contingency. By focusing on issues of contemporary global politics through the lens of political theory, this book draws on literature across disciplines and explores the complex image of time by engaging the work of thinkers for whom time and memory have emerged as a critical issue of analysis and unpacking the politics of contingency that emerge from such a reading. The book's new insights on political temporality will interest scholars of contemporary political theory comparative political theory critical theory human rights conflict studies and religion and politics
