Homelands and Diasporas Giorgia Foscari, Dario Miccoli, Marcella Simoni, 2019-01-15 The volume brings together a collection of essays on Jewish related subjects to celebrate Emanuela Trevisan Semi's career and research authored by some former students, friends and colleagues on the occasion of her retirement. Drawing upon the many academic interests and research of Trevisan Semi, one of the most important European scholars of Jewish and Israel Studies, the volume discusses the diversity of Jewish culture both in the diaspora and in Israel. The contributors here wrote their pieces understanding Jewish culture as inscribed in a set of different yet interrelated homelands and diasporas depending on the time and space we refer to and what this means for communities and individuals living in places as different as West Africa, Poland, Morocco and Israel and the Occupied Palestinian Territories. At the same time they discuss the notion of diaspora as being crucial in the formation of the Jewish cultural identity both before and after the birth of the State of Israel. Unfairly Structured Cities

Blair Badcock, 1984-01-01 Urban Public Policy Martin V. Melosi, 2010-11 The 1992 Los Angeles riots catapulted the problems of the city back onto the policy agenda. The cauldron of social problems of the city as the riots showed offers no simple solutions. Indeed, urban policy includes a range of policy issues involving welfare, housing, job training, education, drug control and the environment. The myriad of local, state and federal agencies only further complicates formulating and implementing coherent policies for the city. This volume, while not offering specific proposals to remedy the problems of the city, provides a broad historical context for discussing contemporary urban policy and for arriving at new prescriptions for relieving the ills of the American city. The essays address issues related to public housing, poverty, transportation and the environment. In doing so, the authors discuss larger themes in urban policy as well as provide case studies of how policies have been implemented over time in specific cities. Of particular interest are two essays that discuss the role of the historian in shaping urban policy and the importance of historical preservation in urban planning. The City Builders Susan S. Fainstein, 2001 This revised edition examines major redevelopment efforts in New York and London to uncover the forces behind these investment cycles and the role that public policy can play in moderating market instability. It chronicles the progress of three development projects in New York and three in London. Unfair Housing Mara S. Sidney, 2003 Why do most neighbourhoods in the United States continue to be racially divided? In this work, author Mara Sidney offers a fresh explanation for the persistent colour lines in America's cities by showing how weak national policy has silenced and splintered grassroots activists. Caught in the Net Alessandro Bonanno, Douglas Constance, 1996 A documentary history that studies the series of laws passed by the US Congress to establish the federal immigration and naturalization policies which have been put into effect since the founding of the nation, legislation which has been designed increasingly to restrict and curtail immigration and which has been particularly harsh on Asian immigrants since its inception. Complete chapters are devoted to each major piece of legislation from the Reconstruction era to the Immigration Act of 1965. Documents attached to
