

In Loving Memory

Those we love don't go away, they walk beside us every day.
Unseen, unheard
but always near,
still loved,
still missed,
and very dear.

Report of the Treasurer of Yale University, with the Accounts of Its Several Departments Yale University, 1925 In the Mirror of Memory Janet Gyatso, 1992-01-01 This book studies the diverse array of species of memory in Buddhism Contributors focus on a particular school group of texts terms or practices and identify a considerable range of types of mnemonic faculties in Buddhism Included are discussions of Buddhist teaching meditation visualization prayer commemoration of the Buddha dha rani practice the use of mnemonic lists to condense lengthy scriptures and the purported recollection of infinite previous lives that immediately preceded Sakyamuni s attainment of Buddhahood Even enlightened awareness itself is said by some Buddhist schools to consist in a mnemonic engagement with reality as such The authors explore Buddhist views on mundane acts of memory such as recognizing reminding memorizing and storing data as well as special types of memory that are cultivated in religious practice One of the most striking discoveries is that perception is intimately related to certain types of memory Several essays investigate if and if so how meditative mindfulness and recollection of the past both of which can be designated by the term smṛti are connected within the Buddhist tradition The question of whether recollection of the past can be explained without violating the foundational Buddhist notions of radical impermanence and no self is addressed by several of the contributing scholars Among the primary sources for the studies in this volume are the northern and southern

Abhidharma literature the Ma tka s Pa li and Maha ya na su tras works of the Buddhist logicians Yoga ca ra materials the Tibetan Great Perfection Rdzogschen tradition and Indian and Tibetan commentarial works Affinities of Buddhist views on memory with those found in Western phenomenology semiology psychology and history of religions are considered as well

School & Society James McKeen Cattell, Will Carson Ryan, Raymond Walters, 1929 Report Presented by the President to the Fellows Yale University, 1909 Time, Memory, Institution David Morris, Kym Maclaren, 2015-04-15 This collection is the first extended investigation of the relation between time and memory in Maurice Merleau Ponty s thought as a whole and the first to explore in depth the significance of his concept of institution It brings the French phenomenologist s views on the self and ontology into contemporary focus Time Memory Institution argues that the self is not a self contained or self determining identity as such it is gathered out of a radical openness to what is not self and that it gathers itself in a time that is not merely a given dimension but folds back upon gathers and institutes itself Access to previously unavailable texts in particular Merleau Ponty s lectures on institution and expression has presented scholars with new resources for thinking about time memory and history These essays represent the best of this new direction in scholarship they deepen our understanding of self and world in relation to time and memory and they give occasion to reexamine Merleau Ponty s contribution and relevance to contemporary Continental philosophy This volume is essential reading for scholars of phenomenology and French philosophy as well as for the many readers across the arts humanities and social sciences who continue to draw insight and inspiration from Merleau Ponty Contributors Elizabeth Behnke Edward Casey V ronique F ti Donald Landes Kirsten Jacobson Galen Johnson Michael Kelly Scott Marratto Glen Mazis Caterina Rea John Russon Robert Vallier and Bernhard Waldenfels Monuments and Memory, Made and Unmade Robert S. Nelson, Margaret Olin, 2003

How do some monuments become so socially powerful that people seek to destroy them After ignoring monuments for years why must we now commemorate public trauma but not triumph with a monument To explore these and other questions Robert S Nelson and Margaret Olin assembled essays from leading scholars about how monuments have functioned throughout the world and how globalization has challenged Western notions of the monument Examining how monuments preserve memory these essays demonstrate how phenomena as diverse as ancient drum towers in China and ritual whale killings in the Pacific Northwest serve to represent and negotiate time Connecting that history to the present with an epilogue on the World Trade Center Monuments and Memory Made and Unmade is pertinent not only for art historians but for anyone interested in the turbulent history of monuments a history that is still very much with us today Contributors Stephen Bann Jonathan Bordo Julia Bryan Wilson Jas Elsner Tapati Guha Thakurta Robert S Nelson Margaret Olin Ruth B Phillips Mitchell Schwarzer Lillian Lan ying Tseng Richard Wittman Wu Hung Rosina Vokes (some tributes to the memory of Mrs. C.
