Healing Today Mark Stibbe, Marc A. Dupont, 2005-12 One of the principle demonstrations of God's power is divine healing This is happening more today than it did during the whole of church history The authors confront the belief that spiritual gifts like healing ceased at the close of the apostolic era at the end of the first century The authors believe that God heals the sick today as we pray for them in the name of Jesus from what they have discovered about the way in which healing functions as just one expression of the love of God
