settled rationally Which criteria determine what we have a good reason to do In this innovative book Logi Gunnarsson takes issue with the assumption made by many philosophers faced with the problem of reconciling moral norms with a scientific world view namely that morality must be offered a non moral justification based on a formal concept of rationality He argues that the criteria for the rationality of an action are irreducibly substantive rather than purely formal and that assuming that morality must be given a non moral justification amounts to a distortion of both rationality and morality His discussion includes substantial critical engagement with major thinkers from two very different philosophical traditions and is notable for its clear and succinct account of Habermas discourse ethics It will appeal to anyone interested in practical reason and the rational credentials of morality Homiletic Review ,1904 American Lutheran ,1920 Marketing and Advertising Floyd Lamar Vaughan,1928 Official Report ,1902 Ainslee's ,1903 Saturday Night ,1925 Nursing Times ,1905 Everybody's Magazine ,1904
