This Green Pleasant Land:

The Far Right and the Environment Bernhard Forchtner, 2019-09-10 At the beginning of the twenty first century both the crisis of liberal democracy as visible in for example the rise of far right actors in Europe and the United States and environmental crises from declining biodiversity to climate change are increasingly in the public spotlight Whilst both areas have been analysed extensively on their own The Far Right and the Environment Politics Discourse and Communication provides much needed insights into their intersection by illuminating the environmental communication of far right party and non party actors in Europe and the United States Although commonly perceived as a left wing issue today concerns over the natural environment by the far right have a long ideology driven history Thus it is not surprising that some members of the far right offer distinctive ecological visions of communal life though for example climate change scepticism is voiced too Investigating this range of stances within their discourse about the natural environment provides a window into the wider politics of the far right and points to a close connection between the politics of identity and the imagination of nature Connecting the fields of environmental communication and study of the far right contributions to this edited volume therefore offer timely assessments of this often overlooked dimension of far right politics John Akomfrah James Harvey, 2023-08-10 The films of John Akomfrah represent one of the most significant bodies of artistic production in the post war era in Britain yet little attempt has been made to analyse the consistencies and divergences across them James Harvey's John Akomfrah is the first comprehensive analytic engagement with these films offering sustained close engagement with the artist's core thematic preoccupations and aesthetic tendencies His analysis negotiates the contextual and theoretical layers of Akomfrah's rich and complex films from the intermedial diaspora aesthetics of Handsworth Songs 1986 to the intersectional spatial ecopolitics of Purple 2017 Positioning Akomfrah in the burgeoning black British arts and cultural scene of the 1980s as a member of Black Audio Film Collective Harvey traces the evolution of a critical relationship with the postcolonial archive in his early films through analysis of documentaries made for television in the 1990s and up to more recent film installations in museums and galleries Landscape and Englishness, 2006-01-01 In the papers collected in this the first volume of the Spatial Practices series Englishness is reflected in the spaces it occupies or dwells in Broadly influenced by a renewed and growing interest in questions of cultural identity its emergence in Victorian theories and fictions of nationality and the new cultural geography the papers cover a rich variety of spaces and places which have been appropriated for cultural meanings the rural countryside and farmland of the Home Counties in the early nineteenth century as Arcadian idyll in Cobbett as the land to die for in war propaganda and as nostalgia for a unified organic English culture in Lawrence Morton and Priestley's travel writing but also in the Shell Tourist Guides to motoring in rural England English moorland the sacred geographies of monuments in Hardy and others the traditional seaside deconstructed in Martin Parr's photography and the sea as English Victorian imperial territory and its symbolic breezes in Froude's travel writing The

English landscape is also a paradigm for the description of other places in D H Lawrence s travel writing or for the colonial territory itself in Rushdie s writing India a displacement of other landscapes This collection of papers examines the assumption that constructions of rural England provide the basis for an understanding of Englishness
