Writing The Australian Crawl:

Writing the Australian Crawl William Stafford, 1978 Writing the Australian Crawl presents a new attitude toward the teaching and practice of writing a writer isn't simply a craftsman with something to say and the skill to say it Rather a writer brings those attributes into a process that is filled with exciting emergencies and opportunities In the end something emerges that is greater than the sum of its parts Performing Arts as High-Impact Practice Michelle Hayford, Susan Kattwinkel, 2018-05-21 This book investigates how the performing arts in higher education nationally contribute to the high impact practices as identified by the Association of American Colleges and Universities AACU Using the well known map of the HIPs for illustrating the centrality of performing arts practices in higher education the editors and authors of this volume call for increased participation by performing arts programs in general education and campus initiatives with specific case studies as a guide Performing arts contribute to the efforts of their institution in delivering a strong liberal arts education that uniquely serves students to meet the careers of the future This is the first book to explicitly link the performing arts to the HIPs and will result in the implementation of best practices to better meet the educational needs of students At stake is the viability of performing arts programs to continue to serve students in their pursuit of a liberal arts education On William Stafford Tom Andrews, 1995-03 Contemporary writers and critics trace the achievement of William Stafford and his influence on contemporary poetry Plant Intelligence and the Imaginal Realm Stephen Harrod Buhner, 2014-05-14 A manual for opening the doors of perception and directly engaging the intelligence of the Natural World Provides exercises to directly perceive and interact with the complex living self organizing being that is Gaia Reveals that every life form on Earth is highly intelligent and communicative Examines the ecological function of invasive plants bacterial resistance to antibiotics psychotropic plants and fungi and the human species In Plant Intelligence and the Imaginal Realm Stephen Harrod Buhner reveals that all life forms on Earth possess intelligence language a sense of I and not I and the capacity to dream He shows that by consciously opening the doors of perception we can reconnect with the living intelligences in Nature as kindred beings become again wild scientists nondomesticated explorers of a Gaian world just as Goethe Barbara McClintock James Lovelock and others have done For as Einstein commented We cannot solve the problems facing us by using the same kind of thinking that created them Buhner explains how to use analogical thinking and imaginal perception to directly experience the inherent meanings that flow through the world that are expressed from each living form that surrounds us and to directly initiate communication in return He delves deeply into the ecological function of invasive plants bacterial resistance to antibiotics psychotropic plants and fungi and most importantly the human species itself He shows that human beings are not a plague on the planet they have a specific ecological function as important to Gaia as that of plants and bacteria Buhner shows that the capacity for depth connection and meaning filled communication with the living world is inherent in every human being It is as natural as breathing as the beating of our own hearts as our own desire for intimacy and love We can
