Writing Through Pictures:

Painting with Words, Writing with Pictures Franco Ricci, 2001-01-01 Ricci's book ranges widely over Calvino's oeuvre to illustrate the accuracy of the idea articulated by Calvino himself that a visual image lies at the origin of all his narrative. The book's main theme is the difficult interface between word and image that Calvino struggled with throughout his career: the act of perception that rendered visible that which was invisible and transformed what was seen into what is read. Ricci holds that Calvino's narrative has an imagocentric program and that his literary strategy is ekphrastic; i.e. it is characterized by literary description of visual representation, real or imaginary. The book is interdisciplinary in nature and will interest not only scholars of literature but also those who work with the visual arts and with information technology.

Teaching Beginning Reading and Writing with the Picture Word Inductive Model Emily Calhoun, 1999. In this practical guide to teaching beginning language learners of all ages, Calhoun encourages us to begin where the learners begin with their developed listening and speaking vocabularies and other accumulated knowledge about the world. Engage students in shaking words out of a picture; words from their speaking vocabularies to begin the process of building their reading and writing skills. Use the picture word inductive model (PWIM) to teach several skills simultaneously: beginning with the mechanics of forming letters to hearing and identifying the phonetic components of language to classifying words and sentences through forming paragraphs and stories based on observation. Built into the PWIM is the structure required to assess the needs and understandings of your students; immediately adjust the lesson in response; and to use explicit instruction and inductive activities. Individual, small group, and large group activities are inherent to the model and flow naturally as the teacher arranges instruction according to the 10 steps of the PWIM. Students and teachers move through the model and work on developing skills and abilities in reading, writing, listening, and comprehension as tools for thinking, learning, and sharing ideas. Writing Through Pictures Julie Dickerson Edwards, Meredith College (Raleigh, N.C.).
