,2010-01-01 Non scholae sed vitae discimus we learn for life rather than for school In this Roman saying the ultimate reason for school is recognized as being a preparation for life High school science too is a preparation for life the possible careers students identify and for defining possible future Selves In this book the contributors take one dataset as their object of scholarship informed by discursive psychology Bakhtin and poststructural positions to investigate the particulars of the language used in interviews about possible careers conducted both before and after an internship in a university science laboratory Across this collection some contributors focus on data driven analyses in which the authors present more macro perspectives on the use of language in science career talk whereas others see the data using particular lenses that provide intelligible and fruitful perspectives on what and how students and interviewer talk careers in science Other contributors propose to transform the database into different representations that allows researchers to single out and demonstrate particular dimensions of discourse Thus these contributions roughly fall into three categories that are treated under the sections entitled Discourse Analyses of Career Talk Discursive Lenses and Foci and Innovations in Theory Method and Representation of Career Talk Research Ethics Frank Chapman Sharp,1928 International Journal of Ethics ,1922 Includes section Book reviews Buddhist Ethics and Morality Masaharu Anesaki,1912 The Bulletin of the Commercial Law League of America ,1920 The Cambridge Magazine ,1915 Thinking about Ethics Richard L. Purtill,1976 Judgments of Beauty in Theory Evaluation Devon Brickhouse-Bryson,2020-07-01 In Judgments of Beauty in Theory Evaluation Devon Brickhouse Bryson argues that judgments of beauty are a justified part of theory evaluation of all sorts including both scientific theory evaluation and philosophical theory evaluation He supports this argument with an account of beauty inherited from Kant and Mothersill on which the distinctive nature of judgments of beauty is that they are unprincipled yet possible Brickhouse Bryson analyzes two important methods of theory evaluation reflective equilibrium and simplicity and argues that these methods require making judgments of beauty understood He further argues that these methods of theory evaluation are not anomalies but that they point to a deeper lesson about the nature of theorizing and the necessity of using judgments of beauty to evaluate systems like theories This book has implications for the debate in philosophy of science over judgments of beauty and also prompts a reckoning in philosophy itself over the use of judgments of beauty in philosophical theory evaluation Encyclopaedia of Religion and Ethics James Hastings,John Alexander Selbie,Louis Herbert Gray,1917 Thinking About Morality William K.
