1590 Thomas Lodge,1883 Thomas Lodge Edward Andrews Tenney,1969 A Companion to Pastoral Poetry of the English Renaissance Sukanta Chaudhuri,2018-04-03 This volume is an essential supplement to Pastoral poetry of the English Renaissance An anthology 2016 The full length Introduction examines English Renaissance pastoral against the history of the mode from antiquity to the present with its multifarious themes and social affinities The study covers many genres eclogue lyric georgic country house poem ballad romantic epic prose romance and major practitioners Theocritus Virgil Sidney Spenser Drayton and Milton It also charts the circulation of pastoral texts with implications for all early modern poetry All poems in the Anthology were edited from the original texts the Companion documents the sources and variant readings in unprecedented detail for a cross section of early modern poetry Includes notes on the poets and analytical indices The Companion is indispensable not only to users of the Anthology but to all students and advanced scholars of Renaissance poetry The Gentleman's Magazine ,1834 Thomas Lodge - Phillis Thomas Lodge,2017-08-11 As can be easily understood presenting an exact chronicle of the facts in the life of a 16th Century playwright is often difficult Thomas Lodge is no exception Thomas Lodge born around 1558 in west Ham was the second son of Sir Thomas Lodge the Lord Mayor of London and his third wife Anne Lodge was educated at Merchant Taylors School and thence to Trinity College Oxford taking his BA in 1577 and his MA in 1581 Lodge disregarded his parents career wishes in order to take up literature When the penitent Stephen Gosson published his Schoole of Abuse in 1579 Lodge responded with Defence of Poetry Music and Stage Plays 1579 or 1580 His pamphlet was banned but appears to have been circulated privately Already in 1580 Lodge had published a volume of poems entitled Scillaes Metamorphosis Enterlaced with the Unfortunate Love of Glaucus also more briefly known as Glaucus and Scilla Lodge seems to have married his first wife Joan in or shortly before 1583 when impressed with the uncertainty of human life he made a will The marriage of Lodge and Joan produced a daughter Mary The debate in pamphlets between Lodge and Gosson continued with Gosson s Playes Confuted in Five Actions and Lodge retorting with his Alarum Against Usurers 1585 a tract for the times Lodge appears to have been at sea on a number of long voyages Many nations endorsed these tactics and it seems fairly safe to suggest that these voyages were a source of revenue which would keep Joan and Mary with their heads above water During the expedition to Terceira and the Canaries around 1586 to set aside the tedium of his voyage Lodge composed his prose tale of Rosalynde Euphues Golden Legacie which printed in 1590 would later be used by Shakespeare as the basis for As You Like It Before starting on his next voyage this time to South America Lodge published a historical romance The History of Robert Second Duke of Normandy surnamed Robert the Devil and he left behind him for publication Catharos Diogenes in his Singularity a discourse on the immorality of Athens London Both appeared in 1591 It is thought that in 1590 together with Greene he wrote A Looking Glass for London and England published 1594 He had already written The Wounds of Civil War produced perhaps as early as 1587 and published in 1594 and put on as a play reading at the Globe Theatre on 7 February 1606 a good second rate piece in the half chronicle fashion of its age The composition of Phyllis a volume and an early sonnet cycle sequence an increasingly popular format in Elizabethan times was published with the narrative poem The Complaynte of Elsyred in 1593 A Fig for Momus was published in 1595 and gained him the accolade of being the earliest English satirist In the latter part of his life possibly about 1596 when he published his Wits Miserie and the World s Madnesse which is dated from Low Leyton in Essex and the religious tract Prosopopeia if as seems probable it was his in which he repents of his lewd lines of other days he became a Catholic and engaged in the practice of medicine for which Wood says he qualified himself by a degree at Avignon in France in 1600 Two years later he received the degree of M D from Oxford University Over the years he was increasingly recognized as a distinguished physician and finally worked from Old Fish Street in the parish of St Mary Magdalen Thomas Lodge died in London most probably during an outbreak of the plague in 1625
