THE TRANSITION OF DANWEI-COMMUNITY AND URBAN COMMUNITY REBUILDING Tian Yi-Peng,2021-11-18 In this work the author endeavors to treat Danwei system as a special and highly organized form of community and sets about his study from the perspectives of Danwei community s change and urban community reconstruction When it comes to the construction and development of urban communities in contemporary China academic circles at home often attempt to unravel its intimate and indissoluble connection with Danwei system and seek to lay emphasis upon the great complexity of their interactive relationship with each other However academic circles generally incorporate Danwei system taken as a national system as well as a universal institution into their fields of research whereas they rarely enter into a critical examination of the variations in its multiplicity of specific denotations by taking account of such variables as space region and culture nor do they show much concern about the existence of different types of Danwei In view of the foregoing difficulties in which the study of Danwei system gets entangled this study attempts to accomplish the following main purposes Firstly this study shall introduce such a variable as locality into the research on Danwei community by starting off from the research perspectives of Danwei community s origin formation and change Secondly several super large industrial communities in the old industrial bases shall be chosen as classic cases in illustration of long standing complications and entanglements enmeshed in this study And thirdly it seeks to reveal the mode and experience of urban community development against a background of Danwei system reform so that by gaining a full understanding of as well as making an in depth analysis of their rich implications we can enrich the theory of urban community construction in the Chinese context and hence grapple successfully with some theoretical problems confronting urban community reconstruction against a background of Danwei community change which shall eventually bring about a smooth transition of Danwei society This book will assuredly open an exceptional window to the transition of China from traditional to modern society the transition of Chinese society from planned economy to market economy and the change track of the interplay between the Chinese government and modern Chinese society after the founding of New China in 1949 at the present time and even in the foreseeable future

Decade of Change: from the Urban Community Development Office to the Community Organization Development Institute in Thailand, A Somsook Boonyabanacha,2002 Crime Prevention in the Urban Community Kōichi Miyazawa, Setsuo Miyazawa, 1995-04-30 One of today's most pressing issues in criminology and crime prevention is the problem of crime in our cities and towns and its prevention. The topic of crime prevention in the Urban Community was discussed at the 47th International Course of the International Society for Criminology (ISC) held at Chuo University, Tokyo. It was the very first time such an ISC meeting was held in Asia, and this meant that finally a relatively large number of Japanese and other Asian participants were able to express their views on criminal policy and crime prevention in urban centres all over the world. Crime in urban communities is not an exclusively Western phenomenon but it is also a considerable problem in other parts of the world. This makes an interchange of ideas between Western, Eastern, and Third World criminologists particularly important. General characteristics of the urban communities that suffer from a high crime rate are ethnic and racial tensions, a mix of old housing areas and new business districts, a prevailing sense of anonymity, slums, and juvenile delinquency. The existence of these general characteristics, besides mutual differences, makes cooperation in the crime prevention sphere definitely worth the effort.

The Urban Community Nels Andersen, 2013-03-07 Part of the Sociology of the City series, originally published in 1959, this volume looks at the urban community, bringing together rural and urban sociology. It advises that areas need to be looked at in terms of the way of life of the inhabitants and not by size, and that urban sociology needs to assume a more global perspective, not just locally.

Urban Sociology Sudha Menon, 2017-11 Urbanization happens as a result of an increasing population and crowding in a given region or a city. It is also associated with the fact that there is increasing movement of people from the rural areas to the urban set-up, like towns and cities in general. The onset of urbanization began a long time ago when people started moving or migrating from the rural areas to the cities with the belief that they could be exposed to a better life than that in the rural areas. In modern times, urbanization is closely linked to modernization, industrialization, and the sociological process of rationalization. Urbanization can describe a specific condition at a set time, i.e. the proportion of total population or area in cities or towns, or the term can describe the increase of this proportion over time. With the growth in urbanization came the urban communities. These are communities of people who live in these urban centres. As part of your study of urban sociology, this book provides an elaborate account of the urban communities to help with a view to provide a deeper understanding of these communities.
