The Urban Caldron Joseph F. DiMento, LeRoy Graymer, Frank Schnidman, 1986      The Urban Caldron Joseph F. DiMento, LeRoy Graymer, Frank Schnidman, 1986      Sunrise Douglas Project General Plan Ammendment and Rezoning, Sacramento County ,1992      Place/No-Place in Urban Asian Religiosity Joanne Punzo Waghorne, 2016-07-15 This book discusses Asia's rapid pace of urbanization with a particular focus on new spaces created by and for everyday religiosity. The essays in this volume covering topics from the global metropolises of Singapore, Bangalore, Seoul, Beijing, and Hong Kong to the regional centers of Gwalior, Pune, Jaipur, and sites like Wudang Mountain, examine in detail the spaces created by new or changing religious organizations that range in scope from neighborhood based to consciously global. The definition of spatial aspects includes direct place making projects such as the construction of new religious buildings, temples, halls, and other meeting sites, as well as less tangible religious endeavors such as the production of new mental spaces urged by spiritual leaders or the shift from terra firma to the strangely concrete effervescence of cyberspace. With this in mind, it explores how distinct and blurred and open and bounded communities generate and participate in diverse practices as they deliberately engage or disengage with physical landscapes, cityscapes. It highlights how through these religious organizations, changing class and gender configurations, ongoing political and economic transformations continue as significant factors shaping and affecting Asian urban lives. In addition, the book goes further by exploring new and often bittersweet improvements like metro rail lines, new national highways, widespread internet access that bulldoze both literally and figuratively religious places and force relocations and adjustments that are often innovative and unexpected. Furthermore, this volume explores personal experiences within the particularities of selected religious organizations and the ways that subjects interpret or actively construct urban spaces. The essays show through ethnographically and historically grounded case studies the variety of ways newly emerging religious communities or religious institutions understand, value, interact with, or strive to ignore extreme urbanization and rapidly changing built environments.

Diversity and Its Discontents Neil J. Smelser, Jeffrey C. Alexander, 1999-05-02 This work asks the question: does any social solidarity exist among Americans? A group of sociologists, political theorists, and social historians explore ideological differences, theoretical disputes, social processes, and institutional change.

Land and Housing Policies in Europe and the USA Graham Hallett, 2021-06-29 Originally published in 1988, this book concentrates on urban land policy and was particularly significant when it was originally published because the 1980s were an era when the rich were getting richer and the poor poorer, and in which changes in the ownership of and access to real estate contributed to this polarisation. The book focusses on some core topics, namely: The buying, selling, and holding of land by public agencies; the land market, including the impact of taxation and subsidisation; the control of the land market through town planning controls. There are chapters devoted to urban land policy in the former West Germany, The Netherlands, France, the former Yugoslavia, the UK, and USA.

Merkl, 2014-07-14 Throughout history parties have faltered and new groups have emerged but rarely has this process been so accelerated so widespread and so conducive to dramatic political change as in our present era When Parties Fail explores alternative organizations in depth and comparatively Among the organizations discussed are environmentalist groups such as the West German and Swedish Greens the Italian Radicals and local protest groups in Japan Switzerland and the United States Also considered are new groups seeking attention in unresponsive party systems such as the Danish Gilstrup party the British SDP and American PACs community parties and movements in Israel India Britain and the American South and antiauthoritarian movements in Poland Solidarity Taiwan and Ghana The case of France provides an example of major party survival Three broadly comparative chapters consider the reasons for major party persistence in some nations and the causes and impact of their decline in others The contributors to the book are David Apter Myron J Aronoff Liang shing Fan Frank B Feigert Zvi Gitelman Ronald J Herring Jon Kraus Kay Lawson Tom Mackie Peter H Merkl Raffaella Y Nanetti Angelo Panebianco Mogens N Pedersen Geoffrey Pridham Peter Pulzer Richard Rose Donald Schoonmaker Frank Sorauf Robert C A Sorensen Evert Vedung Hanes Walton Jr and Frank L Wilson Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      New York Court of Appeals. Records and Briefs. New York (State).,      Patriarch and Folk E. Bradford Burns, 1991 The painful sixty year process that brought Nicaragua from colonial status to incipient nation state is the focus of this fresh examination of inner struggle in a key isthmian country E Bradford Burns shows how Nicaragua s elite was able to consolidate control of the state and form a stable government resolving the bitter rivalry between the two cities Len and Granada but at the same time began the destruction of the rich folk culture of the Indians eventually reducing them to an impoverished and powerless agrarian proletariat The history of this nation echoes that of other Latin American lands yet is peculiarly its own Nicaragua emerged not from a war against Spain but rather from the violent interactions among the patriarchs of the dominant families the communities of common people and foreigners Burns is eloquent on the subject of American adventurism in Nicaragua which culminated in the outrageous expedition of the filibuster William Walker and his band of mercenaries in the 1850s It was a major breach of the trust and friendship Nicaraguans had extended to the United States and the Nicaraguans subsequent victory over the foreign invaders helped forge their long delayed sense of national unity The decimation of Nicaraguan archives for the period prior to 1858 renders the study of early nineteenth century history especially challenging but Burns has made ingenious use of secondary sources and the few published primary materials available including travelers accounts and other memoirs newspapers government reports and diplomatic correspondence He provides valuable insight into Nicaraguan society of the time of both the elite and the folk including a perceptive section on the status and activities of women and the family in society This book will appeal not only to professional historians but to general readers as well
