

HOW TO WRITE A THESIS STATEMENT?

HOW TO WRITE AN EXPOSITORY ESSAY

FOR ASSIGNED SUBJECTS

If you have been asked to write an essay on a specific subject or topic, you can model your thesis statement around this. For example, if you have been given the essay question of 'How does unemployment affect homelessness?' you could write a thesis statement in direct reply to this, it might look something like the following...

"Unemployment affects homelessness in two ways, it causes a rise in how many homeless people there are which in turn has an effect on how much money is being spent on charities such as food banks and homeless shelters."

This statement neatly sums up the main point of the essay and gives a brief look into what is going to be discussed in more depth throughout the piece of writing.

If you have free reign over the essay topic, you must first select what you are going to write about. Once you have decided on this, you can begin crafting your thesis statement. You should remember to ensure that the thesis statement takes care of the following points:

- Show one main argument or idea
- Gives space for people to disagree.
- Shows your personal conclusion on the topic.

Now let's presume that you have chosen the topic of whether homework is conducive to learning, you need to take into consideration the following points:

- What is the main point of the essay?
- What are your views on the topic?
- Can you find any research to back your opinion or even change it?

When you have answered these questions, you are then more easily able to come up with a good thesis statement. As with the assigned essay, it is important to answer a question with your thesis statement. So, considering we are writing an essay on the subject of homework, you could then turn that subject into a question 'Is homework conducive to learning?' Your thesis statement might look something like this:

"More and more parents are refusing to allow their children to do homework, saying that it eats into their free time and provides no benefit to learning. It has been shown that this is not true, in a study conducted in Germany, 90% of children who completed homework passed their exams with a higher grade."

The above thesis statement is strong because it:

- Shows the author's stance on the topic.
- Provides a clear insight to the essay purpose.
- Uses clear and concise language and does not waffle.
- Expresses one main argument.

FOR NON-ASSIGNED SUBJECTS

ADDITIONAL TIPS FOR A GOOD THESIS STATEMENT

We are now going to look at some final hints to ensure that you write the best thesis statement possible.

- Ensure that your thesis statement appears in your introduction and conclusion and does not get buried deep within the body of the essay.
- Make sure that the thesis statement does not exceed two sentences.
- Avoid making obvious statements such as 'this is an essay about....' or 'the point of this paper is....' The thesis statement should be able to convey this without using such up-front language.
- Write clearly and articulately.

Patterns for College Writing, High School Edition Laurie G. Kirszner, Stephen R. Mandell, 2014-11-21 Patterns for College Writing is a best seller in high schools because its approach to writing works focusing students on the kinds of reading and writing they will need to do in order to succeed in class and on their state and national exams The authors provide students with exemplary models and instructors with class tested selections that balance classic and contemporary essays Along with more examples of student writing than any other reader Patterns has the most comprehensive coverage of active reading research and the writing process with a five chapter mini rhetoric the clearest explanations of the patterns of development and the most thorough apparatus of any rhetorical reader The new edition includes exciting new readings and expanded coverage of critical reading working with sources and research Mapping Your Thesis Barry White, 2011-06-01 If this book provided a set of rules to be learned and applied writing a thesis might seem pleasingly easy But because writing a thesis is seldom easy the book instead offers a more complex mapping of the process The purpose is to raise awareness of and provide grist for reflection on the critical choices research and thesis writing for both masters and doctorates currently involves Running as a leitmotif throughout is the notion that no conceptual construct can be complete unto itself concepts can only be defined in terms of their dynamic relations with other constructs Writing for Social Scientists Howard S. Becker, 2008-11-15 Students and researchers all write under pressure and those pressures most lamentably the desire to impress your audience rather than to communicate with them often lead to pretentious prose academic posturing and not infrequently writer s block Sociologist Howard S Becker has written the classic book on how to conquer these pressures and simply write First published nearly twenty years ago Writing for Social Scientists has become a lifesaver for writers in all fields from beginning students to published authors Becker s message is clear in order to learn how to write take a deep breath and then begin writing Revise Repeat It is not always an easy process as Becker wryly relates Decades of teaching researching and writing have given him plenty of material and Becker neatly exposes the foibles of academia and its publish or perish atmosphere Wordiness the passive voice inserting a the way in which when a simple how will do all these mechanisms are a part of the social structure of academic writing By shrugging off such impediments or at the very least putting them aside for a few hours we can reform our work habits and start writing lucidly without worrying about grades peer approval or the literature In this new edition Becker takes account of major changes in the computer tools available to writers today and also substantially expands his analysis of how academic institutions create problems for them As competition in academia grows increasingly heated Writing for Social Scientists will provide solace to a new generation of frazzled would be writers Hebrew Union College Monthly ,1921
