Expanding the Boundaries of Transformative Learning E. O'Sullivan,A. Morrell,M. O'Connor,2016-04-30 Transformative learning involves experiencing a deep structural shift in the basic premises of thought feelings and actions It is a shift of consciousness that dramatically and permanently alters our way of being in the world Such a shift involves our understanding of ourselves and our self locations our relationships with other humans and with the natural world our understanding of relations of power in interlocking structures of class race and gender our body awarenesses our visions of alternative approaches to living and our sense of possibilities for social justice and peace and personal joy The editors of this collection make several challenges to the existing field of transformative learning the first is to theoreticians who have attempted to describe the nature of transformative learning without regard to the content of transformative learning The editors argue that transformative learning theory cannot be constructed in a content neutral or context free way Their second challenge which assumes the importance content for transformative learning is to educators as practitioners The editors argue that transformative learning requires new educational practices consistent with the content Arts based research and arts based teaching learning practices are one example of such new educational practices Education for the soul or spiritual practices such as meditation or modified martial arts or indigenous peoples forms of teaching learning is another example Each article in the collection presents a possible model of these new practices Transformative Learning and Identity Knud Illeris,2013-09-05 In the current ever changing world the liquid modernity the most pressing psychological challenge to all of us is to create and maintain a personal balance between mental stability and mental flexibility In Transformative Learning and Identity Knud Illeris one of the leading thinkers on the way people learn explores updates and re defines the concept and understanding of transformative learning while linking the concept of transformative learning to the concept of identity He thoroughly discusses what transformative learning is or could be in a broader learning theoretical perspective including various concepts of learning by change as opposed to learning by addition and ends up with a new short and distinct definition He also explores and discusses the concept of identity and presents a general model depicting the complexity of identities today Building on the work of Mezirow various perspectives of transformative learning are analysed and discussed including transformative learning in different life ages progressive and regressive transformations motivation and identity defence development of identity personality and competence and transformative learning in school education working life and in relation to current and future life conditions This vital new book by one of the leading learning theorists of our time will prove of lasting interest to academics teachers instructors leaders and researchers in the field of adult learning and education It will also appeal to many students and researchers of psychology and sociology in general

Stories of Transformative Learning Michael Kroth, Patricia Cranton, 2014-11-04 Stories of Transformative Learning is intended to encourage people to explore the potential for transformative learning in their lives practices and communities This book illustrates the transformative learning process through ten stories of individuals from both inside and outside of the classroom Adult educators and adult learners will find the book to be personally insightful and professionally useful There have been many accounts of transformative learning experiences but it is not often that we have the opportunity to hear first hand personal stories of transformative learning Here ten stories are told directly by the people who experienced them with additional commentary from the authors These stories are intended to resonate with readers and to inspire people to create the conditions where transformative learning can occur in their lives and professional practice Storytelling is one way in which both educators and learners can understand the process of transformative learning Telling stories reading others stories and contemplating our own stories all help us to become aware of alternative perspectives a process that is at the heart of critical reflection and critical self reflection which is in turn central to transformative learning We hope to increase readers sense of agency and more self directed self fulfilling lives By demonstrating how others have examined and reconsidered otherwise hidden assumptions that constrained the quality and potential of their lives we show readers how they may do the same
