Bokovoy, 2005-11-01 In the American Southwest no two events shaped modern Spanish heritage more profoundly than the San Diego Expositions of 1915 16 and 1935 36 Both San Diego fairs displayed a portrait of the Southwest and its peoples for the American public The Panama California Exposition of 1915 16 celebrated Southwestern pluralism and gave rise to future promotional events including the Long Beach Pacific Southwest Exposition of 1928 the Santa Fe Fiesta of the 1920s and John Steven McGroarty s The Mission Play The California Pacific International Exposition of 1935 36 promoted the Pacific Slope and the consumer oriented society in the making during the 1930s These San Diego fairs distributed national images of southern California and the Southwest unsurpassed in the early twentieth century By examining architecture and landscape American Indian shows civic pageants tourist imagery and the production of history for celebration and exhibition at each fair Matthew Bokovoy peels back the rhetoric of romance and reveals the legacies of the San Diego World s Fairs to reimagine the Indian and Hispanic Southwest In tracing how the two fairs reflected civic conflict over an invented San Diego culture Bokovoy explains the emergence of a myth in which the city embraced and incorporated native peoples Hispanics and Anglo settlers to benefit its modern development Storied Land John Walton, 2001 John Walton never writes predictable books and Monterey California is not a predictable place the pairing is perfect Although rooted in Monterey this book explores how people in general construct historical narratives Storied Land is as thought

Wrobel, 2002 Whether seen as a land of opportunity or as paradise lost the American West took shape in the nation s imagination with the help of those who wrote about it but two groups who did much to shape that perception are often overlooked today Promoters trying to lure settlers and investors to the West insisted that the frontier had already been tamed that the only frontiers remaining were those of opportunity Through posters pamphlets newspaper articles and other printed pieces these boosters literally imagined places into existence by depicting backwater areas as settled culturally developed regions where newcomers would find none of the hardships associated with frontier life Quick on their heels some of the West s original settlers had begun publishing their reminiscences in books and periodicals and banding together in pioneer societies to sustain their conception of frontier heritage Their selective memory focused on the savage wilderness they had tamed exaggerating the past every bit as much as promoters exaggerated the present Although they are generally seen today as unscrupulous charlatans and tellers of tall tales David Wrobel reveals that these promoters and reminiscers were more significant than their detractors have suggested By exploring the vast literature produced by these individuals from the end of the Civil War through the 1920s he clarifies the pivotal impact of their works on our vision of both the historic and mythic West In examining their role in forging both sense of place within the West and the nation s sense of the West as a place Wrobel shows that these works were vital to the process of identity formation among westerners themselves and to the construction of a West in the national imagination Wrobel also sheds light on the often elitist sometimes racist legacies of both groups through their characterizations of Native Americans African Americans Mexican Americans and Asian Americans In the era Wrobel examines promoters painted the future of each western place as if it were already present while the old timers preserved the past as if it were still present But as he also demonstrates that

West has not really changed much promoters still tout its promise while old timers still try to preserve their selective memories Even relatively recent western residents still tap into the region s mythic pioneer heritage as they form their attachments to place Promised Lands shows us that the West may well move into the twenty first century but our images of it are forever rooted in the nineteenth City Dreams, Country Schemes Kathleen A. Brosnan, Amy L. Scott, 2013-10-11 The American West from the beginning of Euro American settlement has been shaped by diverse ideas about how to utilize physical space and natural environments to create cohesive sometimes exclusive community identities When westerners developed their towns they constructed spaces and cultural identities that reflected alternative understandings of modern urbanity The essays in City Dreams, Country Schemes utilize an interdisciplinary approach to explore the ways that westerners conceptualized built and inhabited urban suburban and exurban spaces in the twentieth century The contributors examine such topics as the attractions of open space and rural gentrification in shaping urban development the role of tourism in developing national parks historical sites and California s Napa Valley and the roles of public art gender and ethnicity in shaping urban centers City Dreams, Country Schemes reveals the values and expectations that have shaped the West and the lives of the people who inhabit it The Western Historical Quarterly, 2004 Nevada Historical Society Quarterly, 2005 The Public Historian, 2002 A Historical Context and Archaeological Research Design for Townsite Properties in California, 2010 Intimate Unions Rosamaría Tanghetti, 2004 Urbanism and Empire in the Far West, 1840-1890 Eugene P. Moehring, 2004 The scope of Moehring s inquiry is vast incorporating such themes as the roles of railroads local and regional capital investment and boosterism in the creation of municipal centers interactions with Indians the relationship between water and town development the importance of agricultural centers in reinforcing trade the role of urban competition and the part that cultural and racial superiority assumptions played in creating the American urban framework Jacket Southern California Quarterly, 2003 California History, 2007 *Program of the ...
