land whether west north or south meant bumping into others exercising the same option In TRIBE ARPEGGIOS the Tuckahoe chose a flight to freedom afloat in a ship Circumstances allowed for a schooner conditions fed the need and heritage nourished the will under leadership with unrestrained imagination The organization was tribal with a benevolent chief and a controlling tribe council as the government Generations of Tuckahoe floated to and in freedom while forming into a flotilla that moved down the eastern seaboard through the Bahamas and Caribbean and around Florida into the swamp shielded mangrove covered sands of the 10 000 Islands When given the cause of threat harm or attack they fought violently Tribes voluntarily joined in freedom and the theme of survival repeated itself relentlessly To offend a friend harm or degrade an innocent or break tribal rules meant judgment rendered Life was as the chief said it would be after blowing pipe smoke to the left smoke to the right and smoke straight ahead Let it be so The Red Hawk Ellen Porter,2016-08-04 The Red Hawk is a fictional account of how people in the very real Chaushilha Native American village of Shehamniu dealt with the events of 1849 to 1865 It weaves adventure history and romance into a compelling story based on true events of the mid 19th century such as the Gold Rush the Mariposa War the Civil War tuberculosis epidemics early settlers education advances in agricultural technology and a great flood It is the early history of Chowchilla California where author Ellen Porter lived from 1964 to 1983 and where her family lived from 1930 to 2009 At Chowchilla High School and at California State University Fresno the author studied journalism She worked in journalism for nearly two decades after obtaining her bachelor s degree from California State University Fresno Since then she has worked primarily in business communications Since 2013 she has done so as the owner of a small marketing and public relations company Pen Porter She also serves as an elected director of Jurupa Area Recreation and Park District in her home city Jurupa Valley California The author e also enjoys history and current events but views the latter from a socially conservative viewpoint When the California Legislature passed A B 30 in 2015 banning the use of Chowchilla High School s mascot the Redskins the author created this story She had originally intended to write a story about the murder of beloved elderly Reddy Redskin a community patriarch However in researching how Reddy might have ended up with the name Redskin and how he would have evolved into a patriarch of a mostly white city the author learned quite a bit about the late 19th century interactions the Native Americans had with new European settlers after the California Gold Rush Thus the book became a story of a family who lived a few generations before Reddy Redskin It was important to tell the historical background of Reddy Redskin s family Sequels are likely as the late 19th and the entire 20th century are also rich in history that would have affected this family which at the end of the book merged Native American and European nationality into one The murder of Reddy may not even be the end of the story However those are stories for the future The Red Hawk is crucial to understanding those events The Boy Scouts' Year Book ,1923
