

No dreams too big...
no dreamers too small!

The Hollywood story goes like this:

In 1954, a major studio had to cancel the plan to use child actress Lee Remick in a celebrated January film. Instead, the studio cranked up a parade, dressed, fun fair and talent agencies worldwide to assemble a cast of 250 midgets. The studio checked them all into the miserable, steel Culver Hotel—where, according to legend, they staged the biggest little beachhead in show business history.

"Somewhere, there's a movie in what happened there," agreed filmmakers Fred Zinnemann, Edward H. Zwick and Steve Seid as they drew past the old Culver. The movie, of course, is Under the Rainbow. But even the most extravagant (and) town here won't prepare you for the outrageous goings-on you're about to behold.

Meanwhile hit the Culver Hotel like a miniature tornado—and they're not alone. There's a small-scale Grimmey spy searching for his far East counterpart, U.S. Secret Service agent Bruce Thoms, watching his junior G-man wife with a half-wit assassin, and Anne Clark, the beautiful young talent coordinator up to her waist in midget mayhem.

Cheryl Chase, Carrie Fisher, Eve Arden, and Adam Arkin romp through this bizarre tall tale at headlong pace. Best of all are the professional players gathered to re-create that legendary Lillian Hellman script: Billy Barty as mini-tyrant Otto Kargling, Cork Heston as the over-the-rainbow dreamer Belle, Pat Hingle as himself (at 2'10"), the smallest star on the big screen, and a crew of extras recruited with the help of Barty's Little People of America organization.

How close is Under the Rainbow to historical fact?

"None, we had fun!" insists writer Jerry Mann, on hand for the original event. "But most of the time, after working in heavy costumes under hot lights, we were too tired to cause all the trouble we look could be!"

Maybe so. Let the legend live on...and Under the Rainbow brings it back to glorious, full-color life.

Under the dark star* William Sharp,1923 Under the Eagle Samuel Holiday,Robert S. McPherson,2013-08-13 Samuel Holiday was one of a small group of Navajo men enlisted by the Marine Corps during World War II to use their native language to transmit secret communications on the battlefield Based on extensive interviews with Robert S McPherson Under the Eagle is Holiday s vivid account of his own story It is the only book length oral history of a Navajo code talker in which the narrator relates his experiences in his own voice and words Under the Eagle carries the reader from Holiday s childhood years in rural Monument Valley Utah into the world of the United States s Pacific campaign against Japan to such places as Kwajalein Saipan Tinian and Iwo Jima Central to Holiday s story is his Navajo worldview which shapes how he views his upbringing in Utah his time at an Indian boarding school and his experiences during World War II Holiday s story coupled with historical and cultural commentary by McPherson shows how traditional Navajo practices gave strength and healing to soldiers facing danger and hardship and to veterans during their difficult readjustment to life after the war The Navajo code talkers have become famous in recent years through books and movies that have dramatized their remarkable story Their wartime achievements are also a source of national pride for the Navajos And yet as McPherson explains Holiday s own experience was as much mental and spiritual as it was physical This decorated marine served under the eagle not only as a soldier but also as a Navajo man deeply aware of his cultural obligations
