Transnational Capitalism and the Struggle over European Integration Bastiaan van Apeldoorn, 2003-08-27 This book presents an analysis of the transnational social forces in the making of a new European socio economic order that emerged out of the European integration process during the 1980s and 1990s Arguing that the political economy of European integration must be put within the context of a changing global capitalism Van Apeldoorn examines how European change is linked to global change and how transnational actors mediate these changes JANE SCHOLZ V MONTGOMERY WARD & CO., INC., 437 MICH 83 (1991); DENNIS MCCART V J. Remaking Eastern Europe — On the Political Economy of Transition J.M. Van Brabant, 2012-12-06 This compact volume is meant as a modest contribution to the ongoing debate on how to transform in particular the radically reforming Eastern European economies into more productive sociopolitical organizations Although my main focus here is on the economics of reform and east west assistance I have tried to embed the multiple technical aspects of restructuring such a resource allocation into the context of remaking Eastern Europe That the volume coincides with the seminal transformations of the communist countries of Eastern Europe is of course not fortuitous But I shall have much less to say about the political transitions from communism to parliamentary democracy except the ways in which the latter may bolster or hinder the hoped for economic mutations In taking stock of where I stand on the issue of radical reform of planned economics in general and the CMEA in particular both still moving targets I have benefited greatly from participation in formal and informal conferences on economic reform The product has also profited from many informal discussions and exchanges of views among friends and colleagues including those entrusted with and purely interested in efforts on the overall topic of the study launched from within the broad context of the United Nations my at times reluctant employer Managing Industrial Change in Western Europe François Duchêne, Geoffrey Shepherd, 1987 Journal of International Affairs ,1987

Borders in Post-Socialist Europe Tassilo Herrschel, 2016-04-08 Borders have attracted considerable attention in public and academic debates in light of the impact of globalisation and in Europe the end of the divisions of the Cold War era Instead being inside or outside of the EU has become a major paradigmatic divide between claimed spheres of influence by Brussels and Moscow respectively In the aftermath of the end of communism established certainties no longer seemed to apply And this included many of the borders within the former eastern Bloc with some losing their relevance while others reassert themselves As its particular contribution this book adopts a symbiotic approach to the analysis of borders drawing on a political economy perspective while also recognising the importance of the socio cultural dimension as found in border studies This seeks to do greater justice to the complex composite nature of borders as geo political state legal and cultural historic constructs in both theory and practice In addition the book s approach stretches across spatial scales to capture the multi level nature of borders The first part of the book presents the conceptual framework as it sets out to embrace this multi faceted multi layered nature of borders In the second part case studies from north central Europe including the Baltic Sea Region exemplify the complexity of borders in the context of post socialist transformation and continuing EU isation
