World Bank And The Poor:

Management by Seclusion Glynn Cochrane, 2019-05-03 50 years ago World Bank President Robert McNamara promised to end poverty. Alleviation was to rely on economic growth resulting in higher incomes stimulated by Bank loans processed by deskbound Washington staff trickling down to the poorest. Instead child poverty and homelessness are on the increase everywhere. In this book anthropologist and former World Bank Advisor Glynn Cochrane argues that instead of Washington's management by seclusion poverty alleviation requires personal engagement with the poorest by helpers with hands on local and cultural skills. Here the author argues the insights provided by anthropological fieldwork have a crucial role to play.

Poverty Reduction and the World Bank, 2000-01-01 Improvements in social indicators have been substantial over the past 25 years but they have not been the same for those at the top and bottom of the distribution. In fact the social indicators for those at the bottom have worsened in some cases substantially. This annual publication reports on World Bank activities in fiscal year 1999 and provides an overview of what the Bank is doing to help countries face the challenge of reducing poverty. It also looks at the future of Bank assistance at the national, global and community levels. Action on these three fronts represents the beginnings of a new strategic direction to be formulated in an implementation note after discussion of the World Development Report 2000. 2001 on poverty is complete. This new strategic direction includes a major program of knowledge sharing, dissemination, training and informed debate centered around the World Development Report and the Poverty Reduction Strategy Sourcebook. Banking on the Poor Robert L. Ayres, 1983 The World Bank Research Observer, 2004 Poverty Reduction and the World Bank, 1999-01-01 QUOTE Ensuring that the poor will reap some benefit from this much anticipated post crisis recovery period will require the efforts and collaboration of governments, international financial institutions, the private sector and civil society both in crisis and non crisis countries. QUOTE James D Wolfensohn, President. Poverty reduction is now more firmly at the center of the Bank's country assistance strategies with increased efforts to improve the quality of poverty assessments, enhanced monitoring and evaluation of poverty outcomes and the integration of quantitative with participatory methods. This annual publication reports on World Bank activities in fiscal year 1998 which continued to be aimed at fostering labor based growth while investing in the development of human capital and providing safety nets. At the same time Bank activities reflected several new themes: the need to protect the poor from shocks, the role of institutions in implementing policies and providing services and the importance of participation, partnerships and social capital. The amounts lent under the Program of Targeted Interventions (PTI) has grown from 29 percent of total investment lending in fiscal year 1997 to 40 percent in fiscal 1998, reflecting increased PTI lending in education, social protection, the environment and to countries in South Asia. The amounts lent for poverty focused adjustment operations also increased from 52 to 64 percent of total adjustment lending, reflecting efforts to protect the poor hit by the recent crisis in East Asia. The report concludes that the East Asian crisis as well as other events of the last decade, persistent conflict in some of the poorest

African countries the continuing pain of transition in former socialist economies and the experience with policy implementation across the world call for a re examination of the Bank s poverty reduction strategy building on the strategy presented in World Development Report 1990 but incorporating new elements as well This work has begun in preparation for the World Development Report on Poverty which will be published in September 2000

The World Bank and the Poor A. van de Laar,1980-05-31 The authors of a recent textbook on the Economics of Development P A Yotopoulos and J B Nugent 1976 chose as the title of their first chapter The Record of Economic Development and Disillusionment with Development Economics It is striking that dissatisfaction with this young branch of the tree of economics has become so strong that a textbook treatment of the subject matter takes Disillusionment as its point of departure True the Disillusionment chapter is followed by many other chapters there is after all some thing to be said on development economics that is worth saying but the wording has changed and frequently the focus as well in comparison to the development economics of the 1950s and sixties Dissatisfaction and disillusionment may be interpreted optimistically as an inevitable stage in the coming of age process of development economics Others may say that the search for a new paradigm is the core of the problem At any rate there is no room for complacency It cannot be denied that at least part of the early development theory came into being as a justification ex post of policy measures that for a variety of reasons were judged desirable or essential
