Terrorism and Homeland Security Paul Viotti, Michael Opheim, Nicholas Bowen, 2008-06-17 Despite the fact that the Department of Homeland Security DHS has been active since November of 2002 the American homeland is still not secure from terrorist attack What passes as DHS strategy is often just a list of objectives with vague references to the garnering of national resources and the marshalling of support from other nations Drawi Global Terrorism Threat Assessment 2025 Alexander Palmer, Riley McCabe, Daniel Byman, Skyeler Jackson, 2025-07-24 Terrorism remains a threat to U S citizens assets and interests despite the national security community s decreasing focus on counterterrorism In 2025 domestic terrorism represents a greater threat to the United States than do international terrorist organizations Most domestic terrorist attacks in the United States are carried out by lone actors or small groups who believe in a wide range of ideologies such as white supremacy partisan extremism and Salafi jihadism In the Middle East the Al Qaeda core Al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula and the Islamic State remain committed to conducting attacks against the U S homeland as well as U S interests although all three are weaker than they were during their heydays Israel has degraded Hezbollah s and Hamas s capabilities while the Houthis have become a more active regional threat Africa remains the most active theater for Salafi jihadist organizations but the continent s groups are mostly tertiary priorities for the United States with the exception of East Africa s Al Shabaab This report consists of three regional assessments of the threat from terrorist groups and movements in the United States the Middle East including Afghanistan and Africa The purpose of this assessment is to help U S national security policymakers intelligence and law enforcement professionals and military decision makers prioritize among different terrorist threats

Newman,R. V. G. Clarke,2008 Description from Brief 01 It has been said that 9 11 changed everything This is certainly true for local police agencies and other chiefs It is increasingly clear that federal agencies such as the FBI and the US Secret Service can no longer work alone in protecting the United States from further attack Rather they must work in partnership with other public and private agencies and most important with local police Local police can identify potential terrorists living or operating in their jurisdictions they can help protect vulnerable targets and they can coordinate the first response to terror attacks These are heavy new responsibilities that significantly expand the workload of already busy departments Many departments welcome these new responsibilities but they cannot be shrugged off because elected officials and the public will increasingly expect their police to be prepared
