

Intimate Partner Violence vs. Domestic Violence

Intimate Partner Violence

Intimate Partner Violence includes any behaviors that one intimate partner (current or former) uses over another to establish power and control. These can include physical or sexual violence, but they do not always; they can be financial, emotional/psychological, cultural, spiritual, reproductive, or other controlling behaviors.

Child Survivors of Intimate Partner DV

Children are often accidentally or incidentally impacted by a parent experiencing Intimate Partner Domestic Violence. Our child advocate and therapist work with children whose primary issues/concerns stem from witnessing their parent go through Intimate Partner Domestic Violence.

Domestic Violence

- 1) For YWCA Spokane, we utilize the term domestic violence to refer to any situation where one partner in an intimate relationship tries to maintain power and control over the other person.
- 2) Legally, Domestic Violence applies to any two parties in the same household who commit crimes of physical harm, bodily injury, or assault; creating a fear that physical harm, bodily injury, pushing, shoving, slapping, punching, kicking, or assault will happen soon; sexual assault; or stalking.

Child Survivors of Domestic Violence

If the prominent concern is sexual assault and/or child maltreatment (particularly physical abuse), YWCA Spokane will refer these cases to Lutheran Community Services or Partners with Families and Children for support services. Depending on the nature and severity of the abuse, may also be a mandated report to Child Protective Services.

Please do not hesitate to call our Intimate Partner Domestic Violence Support Services at 509-789-9297 to see if our agency is right for your case, to make an appointment, or to simply speak to someone if you need support.
