Tiger Jaws:

Into the Tiger's Jaw Estate of Frank E. Petersen, Alfred J Phelps, 2012-07-30 Like many 18 year olds who sign up to serve with the U S Navy Petersen was looking for adventure when he enlisted The difference between him and the average kid of 1950 when he enlisted was that Petersen was African American At the time military opportunities were limited for blacks so it was remarkable that Petersen revealed here as an intense go getter was admitted to the highly competitive naval aviation cadet program He would go on to become the first African American pilot then flag officer then three star general in the deeply conservative Marine Corps Assisted by veteran biographer Phelps Petersen relates his personal and career trajectory from wide eyed kid to seasoned combatant Although the presentation at times is overly detailed with recollections of Petersen s acquaintances sprinkled liberally throughout This work offers valuable insight into the evolution of both the military and the society at large through the experience of one man and his family It s hard not to wince when Petersen describes being stopped for impersonating a military officer at a time when blacks in the service were presumed to be enlisted men Other anecdotes are more benign such as the time a puzzled young Korean woman tried to wipe the color from his face To Petersen s credit he includes much commentary from his first wife Ellie who is candid about the toll of being married to an ambitious pioneer Through her readers see the mettle of that rare breed of social groundbreakers Publishers Weekly

Sons of Sarasvatī , 2018-09-10 Traditional Indian p itya scholarship has a long and distinguished history but is now practically extinct Its decline is remarkably recent traditional p itya flourished as recently as 150 years ago The decline is also paradoxical having occurred precipitously following a broad and remarkable flowering of the tradition between the fifteenth and eighteenth centuries The important questions this decline poses are the subject of much ongoing work The intellectual history of the period is still under construction and the present book represents a major contribution to the project A notable impediment has been the lack of critical biographies of significant thinkers in this tradition The importance of personal and social context for reconstructing intellectual histories is widely understood In the classical Indian intellectual tradition however authors systematically exclude such context making intellectual biography something of a rarity very rare in English and sparse even in the regional languages This book contains translations from the original Kanna a of the biographies of Gara apur stri r ka ha stri and Ku igala R ma stri of nineteenth century Mysore all representing the highest echelons of traditional poetry at this critical period of transition Their fields are literature grammar and logic respectively The biographies focus on the personal lives of these scholars and their many contexts These biographies are almost contemporaneous accounts reflecting firsthand knowledge The translations are accompanied by copious footnotes as well as appendices drawn from the relevant primary sources
