Writing is Thinking Bo-Chen Chen, 2020 Writing is Thinking explores how people use handwriting to form their own thinking People often write in two ways short form and long form Short form tends to be quick and means the writer is thinking fast to achieve a particular purpose such as making a note or a list On the contrary long form writing such as a birthday card or a letter takes longer and prompts the writer to think deeply Writing is not fixed invariable or limited The flow of writing represents the process of thinking This project explores these ideas as videos in multiple overlapping frames to show specific writing thinking moments as deconstructed details which highlight aspects of each person s experiences and identity Each person featured in this collection has his her individual habit of using handwriting to do an action of thinking What he she thinks is embodied in what he she writes

Enjoying the Song of Expression: An Emotional Symphony within Writing Is Thinking

In a world consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous communication, the melodic beauty and mental symphony developed by the published term frequently diminish into the background, eclipsed by the constant sound and disturbances that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, located within the pages of Writing Is Thinking a charming fictional prize overflowing with natural emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an outstanding composer of language, this fascinating masterpiece conducts readers on a psychological trip, skillfully unraveling the concealed melodies and profound influence resonating within each cautiously crafted phrase. Within the depths of the emotional evaluation, we shall examine the book's central harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing design, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers' souls.
