Neurological and Neuropsychiatric Disorders Affecting Military Personnel and Veterans Mary Jo Pugh, William Walker, Venkatagiri Krishnamurthy, Lisa C. Krishnamurthy, Chen Lin, 2024-03-20 Active military personnel and Veterans of the military face unique neurologic and neuropsychiatric challenges unique to this population compared to the public The military and Veteran population have faced traumatic experiences that lead to both physical and mental consequences Amongst the important challenges unique to this population include traumatic brain injury increased risk of neurological disorders such as dementia and stroke and comorbid neuropsychiatric conditions Unfortunately many of these challenges also have a negative

feedback loop such as brain injuries leading to post traumatic stress disorder which can increase risk of Alzheimer's Dementia. Unfortunately there are many gaps in knowledge to understand the unique challenges this population faces. There are many opportunities to improve our understanding of these challenges that military personnel and Veterans face. The goal of this Research Topic is to shine a light and improve understanding of these challenges. We aim to collect knowledge from the global network of researchers working on topics related to Neurological and Neuropsychiatric disorders affecting military personnel and Veterans. There are currently many gaps in the diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of conditions that affect this population disproportionately. This collection of work in the Frontiers in Neurology will give authors the opportunity to share with the global scientific community important research findings that address these gaps. For this collection, we are looking for submissions with topics that specifically address the unique challenges affecting military personnel and Veterans with Neurologic and Neuropsychiatric disorders.

Traffic and Transport Psychology Talib Rothengatter, Raphael Denis Huguenin, 2004-09-08. This volume gives an overview of the trends in Traffic and Transport Psychology. It reflects the considerable development of the most important factors for driving a road vehicle and the variety of international research approaches. The first part contains basic approaches and integrated models as well as general theories and their implementation into Traffic and Transport Psychology. The second part deals with the driver, especially cognition, performance, social, and differential effects, and impairment. Important aspects are treated such as speed perception, reaction times, interaction, risk acceptance, aggression, and gender differences. Special chapters refer to performance and fatigue. The third part focuses on safety, driver support, selection, and influencing drivers by enforcement, training, and programs for the rehabilitation of traffic offenders. Classic ergonomic methods are discussed as well as modern telematic devices or trends regarding driver assessment. In the last part, current developments are presented in relation to better mobility and the protection of the environment. Questions are asked such as whether we could reduce the use of cars, how travel behaviour can be modified, or to what extent the use of alternatives to motor vehicles benefits safety as well as the environment. This work is not only important for psychologists; it should be read by all transport professionals interested in the application of psychology to traffic.

Productivity, Professionalism, and Parenting in Academia Christine E. Tulley, 2025-04-30. Drawing on time use diary analysis, this unique and detailed study fills in the larger narrative about what it takes hour by hour to navigate academic motherhood with a rhetoric and composition career. Looking specifically at the intersections between parenting and writing for publication in order to find out how and when writing for career-advancing tasks such as publication occur, but also through the lens of disciplinary time constraints including heavy grading and administrative workloads, the book examines support systems noted within diary entries that make combining motherhood and a career in rhetoric and composition possible. Using both quantitative analysis of hours and qualitative coding of time use diaries from rhet comp moms this book answers questions about publishing professionalism and parenting This book will interest scholars and graduate students working in the discipline of rhetoric writing and composition particularly those working on labor and professional issues on gender and equality within the discipline and anyone working in all fields looking for ways to foster a better work life balance
