Talk, Talk E.L. Konigsburg, 2011-03-29 In TalkTalk E L Konigsburg presents a selection of speeches she has given over a period of 25 years In her introduction to the first speech and to the book as a whole she explains While each of my books has been written because I had a story I wanted to tell these speeches were written because I had something I wanted to say The audience for the former is children for the latter adults I recognize with a measure of amused detachment that some were written as a reaction to trends others to fads I have given these talks in cafeteriums auditoriums and the public rooms of Holiday Inns Even though I have not always been on a stage when addressing an audience I have tried to set the stage Between talk and talk I have written passages connecting the speeches to the time in which they were written and to one another And that is TalkTalk Always a thought provoking speaker she has chosen nine speeches that capture the essence of her years as a writer for children When brought together they enrich one another and provide a chance to look back at what children's books have been to observe where they are now and to offer an insightful look at what books may continue to mean to children in the years to come Written by an outstanding author these speeches individually and together represent a vision of the need for books and the role books have played and should continue to play in the lives of children A Study of Selected Alternate Literary Conventions in Fiction for Children and Young Adults and an Examination of the Responses of Professionals Influential in Juvenile Literature to the Presence of These Conventions Wendy Kathleen Sutton, 1978 Critical Essays on Donald Barthelme Richard Francis Patteson, 1992 The most comprehensive collection of essays ever published on the contemporary American writer who died at the age of 58 in 1989 this volume contains both a
