To Inspire and Instruct Christina Nielsen,2021-02-03 This collection of essays which derive from a symposium held at the Art Institute of Chicago in 2005 tells the story of how medieval art was collected by both individuals and institutions in the American Midwest This book will appeal to both medievalists and scholars of nineteenth and twentieth century American history In addition it will also appeal to scholars who are interested in museum studies and the history of collecting The essays in the first section Collecting and Displaying Medieval Art consider the formation of medieval art collections at influential cultural institutions in three of the most important centers of industry and culture in the Midwest Chicago Detroit and Cleveland The second section Medieval Art as Inspiration and Education examines the motives of both private donors and museum professionals in forming collections and establishing period rooms and cloistered spaces at museums in Toledo Kansas City and St Louis among others At the opposite end of the spectrum was a new trend in curatorial practice beginning in the 1930s that favored the dismantling of period rooms and espoused displaying historical works of art in more distinctly modern settings a theme that pervades section three Medieval Art and Modernism An essay on medieval art in Midwestern university art museums and another one that considers the impact of works from medieval collections in special exhibitions serve as a remarkable coda to the rest of the volume Two appendices follow this one that provides an overview of medieval art collections in Midwestern university museums and another which provides a biographical sketch of prominent dealers of medieval art from 1900 1950

The Lecturer's Tale James Hynes,2002-02-09 Nelson Humboldt suddenly loses his position as an adjunct lecturer at a prestigious midwestern university and then discovers that he has received special powers when his finger is reattached after an accident

Basket Weavers for the California Curio Trade Marvin Cohodas,2019-12-03 The peoples of northwestern California s Lower Klamath River area have long been known for their fine basketry Two early twentieth century weavers of that region Elizabeth Hickox and her daughter Louise created especially distinctive baskets that are celebrated today for their elaboration of technique form and surface designs Marvin Cohodas now explores the various forces that influenced Elizabeth Hickox analyzing her relationship with the curio trade and specifically with dealer Grace Nicholson to show how those associations affected the development and marketing of baskets He explains the techniques and patterns that Hickox created to meet the challenge of weaving design into changing three dimensional forms In addition to explicating the Hickoxes basketry Cohodas interprets its uniqueness as a form of intersocietal art showing how Elizabeth first designed her distinctive trinket basket to convey a particular view of the curio trade and its effect on status within her community Through its close examination of these superb practitioners of basketry Basket Weavers for the California Curio Trade addresses many of today s most pressing questions in Native American art studies concerning individuality patronage and issues of authenticity Graced with historic photographs and full color plates it reveals the challenges faced by early twentieth century Native weavers Published with the assistance of The Southwest Museum Los Angeles The Poole Collection Julie Britt,1980 The Athenaeum ,1898 Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Photography, 3-Volume Set Lynne Warren,2005-11-15 The Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Photography explores the vast international scope of twentieth century photography and explains that history with a wide ranging interdisciplinary manner This unique approach covers the aesthetic history of photography as an evolving art and documentary form while also recognizing it as a developing technology and cultural force This Encyclopedia presents the important developments movements photographers photographic institutions and theoretical aspects of the field along with information about equipment techniques and practical applications of photography To bring this history alive for the reader the set is illustrated in black and white throughout and each volume contains a color plate section A useful glossary of terms is also included Library Journal ,1917 Library Journal Melvil Dewey,Richard Rogers Bowker,L.
