Still Telling:

Still Telling It As It Was (More Memories of the Black Country) Kathleen Hann,2005 The second part of Kathleen Hann s autobiography Still Telling It As It Was sees us through her early married life in the Black Country from 1951 to her move to Telford in 1969 With her husband Peter just demobbed they face financial hardship due to low wages and high housing costs Bringing up three children at the time Kathleen shows her love care mettle and great skills with make do and mend which have been passed on by her mother Unwittingly renting a room to a prostitute and her pimp buying a war bombed house and getting a failing public house back on its feet are just a few of the trials and tribulations which Kathleen and Peter face in this story Tales of terribly hard physical labour for both of them which left permanent physical and mental scars are retold with chilling accuracy The progress of her son s major illness is also described with great passion and dignity especially considering the way she was treated by the some of the medical profession at the time There are lighter notes though the DIY chimney sweeping saga the Golden Child who stuffed her knickers down the drains and Kathleen s own very short fuse to an exploding temper these all bring very different and sometimes highly amusing insights into this very closely knit and loving family A vital document for any social historian or a grippingly real story of hardship in the Black Country of the 1950s and 60s this book is a prime candidate for anyone s must read list
